BRYAN NOT READY TO LOWER COLORS

The Nebraskan Declines Chairmanship of Resolutions Committee.

JAMES PERMANENT CHAIRMAN

Yesterday's Session of Democratic Convention Was a Spell-Binding One—Platform to Follow Nomination.

Baltimore, June 26.—Ollie James, senator-elect from Kentucky, was today chosen for permanent chairman of the Democratic National Convention by the committee on permanent arrangements.

William Jennings Bryan declined the chairmanship of the resolutions committee. Senator John W. Kern, of Indiana, was chosen. The committee adopted Mr. Bryan's proposal to hold back on platform until after the nomination of the party's candidate for President.

The Roger Sullivan delegates from Delaware were seated by the credentials committee.

After a session of oratory in which no business was done, the convention adjourned at 2:17 o'clock until 8 o'clock tonight.

This summarizes the day's proceedings in Baltimore.

A flood of oratory buried the delegates to the Democratic National Convention under rhetorical waves today. The convention marked time through the entire day session because the committee on credentials had not prepared its report.

The convention agreed to meet at 8 o'clock tonight to take up the problem of permanent organization, receive the reports of the credentials committee and possibly begin the nominating speeches of Presidential candidates.

It had been decided at the request of Mr. Bryan to defer the drawing of a platform until after the nominations.

Half a dozen speakers delivered typical campaign speeches at today's session.

At 12:21 Chairman Parker pounded his desk with the gavel and the sergeant-at-arms aided by the police set out to clear the aisles. Slowly the confusion subsided and the convention got under way. Bishop Murray offered prayer.

Former Governor Joseph Folk, of Missouri, was introduced as the first speaker. "The nominee of this convention will be the next President of the United States," said Folk. He eulogized Bryan at length. The delegates grew restless in the course of Folk's speech and Chairman Parker was forced to admonish them to be quiet.

Folk's speech was very brief and Senator Rayner, of Maryland, was called on.

He also predicted success for the Democratic nominee and discussed the division in the Republican party and declared that the motto of the Taft faction would be "We will react and retrograde."

The motto of the Roosevelt party, he quoted as "Thou shalt not steal."

"Our motto in this campaign will be 'We shall progress'," shouted Senator Rayner and the crowd cheered.

When Rayner concluded Chairman Parker asked for more speakers. A shout for Congressman "Tom" Heflin, of Alabama, went up from the floor. But Parker introduced Congressman Henry D. Clayton, of Alabama, chairman of the House Judiciary Committee.

The delegates seemed to enjoy what one of them termed "a spell of spellbinding."

After he had spoken for several minutes in denunciation of Republican principles and predatory wealth, Mr. Clayton turned to Democratic prospects.

"I do not know upon whom the nomination of this convention will fall," he said.

"Underwood," shouted an Alabama delegate.

"Clark," shouted a man from Missouri.

"Wilson," came in answering chorus from New Jersey.

"Harmon" called the Ohioans.

In a moment the entire convention hall was swept by the shouts and cheers and songs of the adherents of the different candidates. The band joined in the demonstrations.

Chairman Parker made little effort to quiet the enthusiasts. Mr. Clayton stood smiling at the speaker's desk.

A melody of Southen airs from the band brought out increasing cheers.

Some of the delegates attempted to uproot the State standards, but the policemen by quick work prevented it.

The aisles became choked with delegates and it seemed many spectators had invaded the delegates' section.

One man opened a big umbrella and started a parade, but was headed off.

By this time Chairman Parker and the sergeants-at-arms were making frantic but vain efforts to restore quiet.

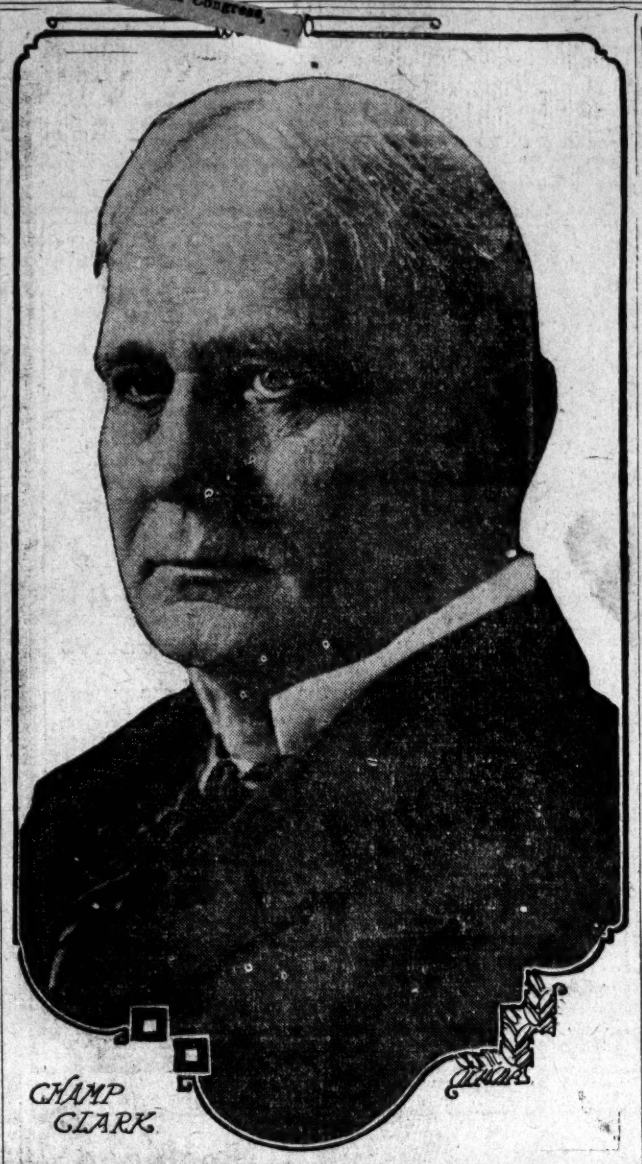

"New Jersey, please sit down," called a deputy sergeant-at-arms.

"Missouri, please give the speaker a chance," called another.

Mr. Clayton at last made himself heard above the din. He declared that whoever the candidate was he would be the next President of the United States.

A round of cheers greeted Senator

CONVENTION GOES WILD OVER WILSON

Mention of Jersey Governor Starts Half-Hour Demonstration-Rules Report Adopted-Lengthy Debate on Adoption of Majority or Minority Reports as to Abrogation of Unit Rule.

Convention Hall, Baltimore, June 26.—A sweltering atmosphere charged with humidity greeted the delegates as they filed in for tonight's session just before 8 o'clock. Negligee was again the order of the occasion.

A thunderstorm kept the gallery attendance down and at 8 o'clock only about half of the seats for spectators were filled. The delegates, too, were slow in arriving. National Chairman Mack appeared on the scene shortly after 8 o'clock. At that time many of the delegates' seats on the floor were vacant and the meagre gallery crowd was entertained with a series of ragtime selections by the band. When Chairman Parker appeared there was a scattered round of applause. He greeted the Rev. T. O. Crouse, of the Mt. Royal Avenue Episcopal church, who was the chaplain of the meeting.

At 8:32 Chairman Parker dropped his gavel, the sergeant-at-arms cleared the aisles and secured order, while Rev. Crouse began the prayer.

Representative Covington, of Maryland, chairman of the committee on rules, was recognized to present the committee's report.

The report as read by Mr. Covington placed the nominations for President and Vice President on the committee immediately after report of the committee on credentials, and before the adoption of the platform.

"This is contrary to the usual custom," said Mr. Covington. "But while the committee on rules was in session today three distinguished members of the committee on resolutions, Senator Rayner, Governor Vardaman and another distinguished member of the resolutions committee came into our conference. They informed the rules committee that the resolutions committee by a vote of 41 to 11 had determined that the exigencies of the present Democratic situation made it wise to have this convention proceed to the nominations before the adoption of the platform. In recognition of distinguished members of the committee, the committee on rules has embodied it in the report of the rules committee. I now move the adoption of that report."

The report, much to the surprise of the convention generally, was adopted by a viva voce vote without opposition.

Mr. Covington then presented the supplemental report of the majority, making the unit rule a rule of the convention. As reported, the rule would make a unit instruction by a State convention binding on a delegation if a majority of the delegation favored any particular candidate. Representative Henry, of Texas, presented a minority report, which would except from the operation of this rule such delegations as are elected under State primaries or by Congressional districts.

After both reports had been presented Chairman Covington opened the debate in favor of the majority report. He argued that as the two-thirds rule was true Jeffersonian Democratic doctrine, and as without the unit rule the two-thirds rule would not be practicable, the convention agreed to maintain the unit rule, despite the popular primary in Congressional districts.

Mr. Covington's argument was greeted by scattered applause.

Representative Henry said that the minority report would in no way interfere with the operation of the unit rule as it has obtained heretofore.

With the delegates who were elected as heretofore by a State convention, Mr. Henry said, the old unit rule would still obtain. But in cases where primary laws provided for the election of delegates by direct vote, he held, the people should be allowed to express their preference. He cited the primary laws of Illinois and Ohio. The delegations from both of these States are in dispute.

"Let this convention make no mistake to gratify the whims of any man," concluded Mr. Henry. "This is no time for the Democratic party to blunder. Let us say to the States, 'go on with your Presidential preference primaries, write these primary laws on the statute books of every State.' That is the stand we should take for progressive principles."

John W. Peck, of Ohio, was given 20 minutes of time to support the majority report. He said that Ohio was the State most closely affected by the rule.

"It is proposed by this minority report," he said, "to take away from Ohio the right it has always been accorded, to unified action in the National convention."

A few moments later he referred to Governor Wilson, of New Jersey, and the name started a demonstration.

"This," he said, "is the position taken by the great progressive Governor of New Jersey"—and the storm broke. The New Jersey delegation began the uproar. A dozen pictures of Wilson appeared and were scattered through the hall. Senator John Sharp Williams, of Mississippi, who was on the platform, swung his hat above his head as he led cheers for Wilson. A big white Texas banner, inscribed "40 for Wilson," with a Wilson lithograph attached, appeared and an attempt was

WILSON'S FORCES WIN BIG VICTORY

Carry a Motion Abrogating Unit Rule as to State Delegations.

GAINS 18 VOTES FROM OHIO

Official Vote Was 565 1-2 to 491 1-2—Break Expected In Many States And the Governor's Boom Grows Considerably

Convention Hall, Baltimore, June 26.—The Progressives in the Democratic National Convention claimed a notable victory tonight when they carried a motion abrogating the rule by which some State delegations were bound to cast their votes as a unit.

The fight for and against the unit rule was waged particularly about the State of Ohio, where 18 district delegates had been instructed by primaries to vote for Woodrow Wilson but where the State convention, controlled by the Harmon forces, had invoked the unit rule binding all Ohio delegates to the Ohio Governor.

The convention by a vote of 565 1-2 to 491 1-2 voted that no State delegation should be bound by unit control except in such cases where a State law was mandatory on the subject.

Wilson supporters in the convention, who earlier in the evening had carried on a demonstration lasting 33 minutes, regarded the vote as distinctly favoring their candidate. The Wilson boom had been growing throughout the day.

Wilson gained and Harmon lost 18 votes from the Ohio delegation as a result of the fight. It was said the abrogation of the rule might lead to breaks in other delegations and this left the Presidential nomination tonight in greater doubt than ever.

New York's solid block of 90 votes was cast in favor of continuing the unit rule amid hisses and groans. Missouri, the home State of Champ Clark, split 29 to 7 in favor of the unit rule and this result also was received with groans.

When Nebraska and Kansas voted solidly for the abrogation of the unit rule, there were cheers from the Wilson forces. Pennsylvania, a Wilson State, gave a big majority for abrogation. There had been reports during the day of a growing sentiment in the New York delegation in favor of Wilson. The delegation voted under the unit rule tonight in casting its ballot against the proposition fostered by the New Jersey Governor's supporters.

The fight over the unit rule carried the evening session well along toward midnight. The report from the Committee on Credentials then was received. As there was a minority report, requiring discussions adjournment was decided upon until noon tomorrow.

William Jennings Bryan, returning to his hotel tonight from the Committee on Resolutions, where he had spent the evening, was given a big demonstration by the delegates gathered there. Several of his friends warmly congratulated him on the vote in the convention overturning the unit rule.

Mr. Bryan said: "I was not even in the convention, but I am very much pleased of course, over the vote. I will not attempt to predict what the

OUTLINES

Ollie James, of Kentucky, was yesterday chosen permanent chairman of the Democratic convention; William Jennings Bryan declined the chairmanship of the Resolutions Committee, which adopted his suggestion to hold back the platform until after the nomination of a candidate for the Presidency, and after an oratorical session in which no business was done, the convention adjourning at 2:17 till 8 P. M.

The Resolutions Committee began hearings yesterday for declarations to be incorporated in the Democratic platform. The New York delegation submitted an entire platform.

With the lines tightly drawn last night all indications pointed to an extended battle for the Democratic nomination. During the day Champ Clark's boom seemed to have subsided somewhat, and the Wilson adherents claimed their man had made distinct gains.

A panel of 100 men is being summoned to be present at Wytheville Monday morning for the resumption of the trials of the members of the Allen gang.

The Democratic convention voted last night to abrogate the unit rule as to all State delegations except those where the State laws are mandatory on the subject. This gave Wilson 18 votes from Ohio and may cause a break in other delegations, being hailed as a great Wilson victory.

The improvement of conditions in Cuba led the War Department yesterday to abandon the arrangements made for the dispatch of an "expeditionary force."

HARD AT WORK ON PARTY'S PLATFORM

Resolutions Committee Hears Pleas for Various Planks-New York Delegation Submits Entire Document With Many Declarations-Lively Tilt Between Culberson and Congressman Brantley.

Baltimore, June 26.—The Committee on Resolutions today began preparing a platform for the consideration of the Democratic National Convention. The committee sat during a large part of the day and with the approach of night turned over to a subcommittee of 11 the detailed work of preparing the document for the consideration of the full body.

In addition to voting to recommend that the platform should not be presented to the convention until after the nomination of a Presidential candidate, the committee began a series of hearings devoted to the presentation of pleas for platform declaration. In addition to verbal suggestions other planks were sent in and in some instances entire platforms were presented, among the latter one from the New York delegation and another from Senator Newlands, of Nevada.

Other features of the hearings included a lively tilt between Senator Culberson, of Texas, and Congressman Brantley, of Georgia. Mr. Brantley, a member of the National Employes' Liability Committee, took issue with some of the Texan's references to the workmen's compensation bill supported by that committee.

The New York platform, which received careful consideration, gives first place to the tariff, declaring it to be a fundanmental principle of the Democratic party that the Federal government has "no right or power to collect tariff duties except for purposes of revenue." There is a demand that the collection of tariff taxes shall be limited to the necessities of government when honestly and economically administered.

There is a declaration for immediate revision especially on the necessaries of life. President Taft's action in vetoing the woolen, cotton, chemical and the farmers' free list bills of the last session of Congress is denounced.

Rigid enforcement of the anti-trust laws is promised and such additions as may be necessary to make the laws effective are promised.

While opposing the establishment of a central bank, the opinion is expressed that there should be legislation under Democratic auspices looking to the creation of a flexible banking law which would prevent any small group of financiers or politicians from controlling the banks of the country.

Declaration is made for an income tax through constitutional amendment for election of Senators by direct vote and for a single six-year term for President.

The work of the present Democratic House of Representatives is highly commended.

Promise is made to maintain the Monroe Doctrine and to protect American citizens at home and abroad. With evident reference to the treatment of American Jews in Russia, promise is made to attempt to remove unjust discrimination on account of race of creed.

Other recommendations favor:

Extension of the parcels post.

Encouragement of the merchant marine, but without subsidy.

Federal aid in the maintenance of good roads.

Improvement of the Inland Waterways.

Reformation of the civil service, making merit the standard of appointment and promotion.

Workmen's compensation legislation.

Improvement of the pure food laws.

Conservation of natural resources.

Reduction of governmental expenditures.

Mr. Newland's draft favored the abolition of negro suffrage, the gradual reduction of the tariff and the appropriation of $50,000,000 annually for river improvements.

The encounter between Senator Culberson and Mr. Brantley occurred in connection with an argument by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, in the interest of a plan favorable to labor. He spoke for the principle covered by the workman's compensation bill when Mr. Culberson raised the question as to Federal jurisdiction in compensation cases. The Texas Senator and the Georgia Congressman had opposing views as to the provisions of the bill on that point until at last the Texan claimed with marked emphasis:

"The gentleman from Georgia is entirely incorrect."

"The gentleman from Georgia is entirely right," responded Mr. Brantly, who had aided in preparing the bill.

Mr. Gompers asked for the reaffirmation of the Denve platform on questions affecting labor. dwelling especially on that of injunction. He referred to the recent prison sentence against himself, John Mitchell and Frank Morrison for the violation of a court injunction.

Mr. Gompers said that while originally a Republican, he had not acted with that party in recent years. "They don't play fair with the masses and I could not play with them," he said.

"You got what you wanted at Denver, didn't you?" asked Mr. Bryan.

"We did," replied Mr. Gompers,

LONG DRAWN OUT BATTLE EXPECTED

WILSON MAKES HEAVY GAINS

Clark Wave is Subsiding and It is Now Certain an Outright Progressive Will be Named—Bryan is Out of It.

Baltimore, June 26.—With nominations due to be made tomorrow the situation in the Democratic National Convention with respect to a Presidential candidate was as complex and uncertain tonight as at any time since the delegates began to pour into Baltimore.

There was much talk of a subsidence of the Champ Clark wave which reached its crest last night, but the Speaker's campaign managers were not willing to admit there had been any wavering in their forces. At the same time they went to the convention hall tonight with the expressed purpose of forcing the issue at the earliest possible opportunity. The opposition forces, hearing of this plan, prepared to block it. They did not wish the nominations to be made until tomorrow, hoping the situation might clear a little by that time.

The adherents of Woodrow Wilson claimed tonight that the candidate had made distinct gains during the day. They asserted that some of the Clark sentiment was turning toward the New Jersey Governor, and were in a more hopeful mood than at any time during the convention period.

"Dark horses" were being discussed everywhere by the leaders and delegates tonight, but there appeared to be some difficulty in crystalizing sentiments as to which one of the dark horses was darkest.

Senator John W. Kern, of Indiana; Mr. Bryan's choice for temporary chairman of the convention and chairman of the committee drawing the party platform, still appeared to hold the lead among the dark horses. The coalition of the Bryan and Wilson forces in the first fight of the convention, however, led to talk of the Bryan strength ultimately going to Wilson.

The one outstanding fact in the situation seemed to be the absolute impossibility of any candidate having a sufficient number of votes on the first ballot to nominate. The two-thirds rule prevailing in the Democratic conventions always make the picking of a candidate in advance a difficult problem.

After the first ballot is taken it remains to be seen how well the Clark managers can hold their vote together.

Some delegates predicted tonight that the voting will run a large number of ballots, while others predicted with equal confidence that the "break" would come quickly and a nomination made on the third call of the roll.

Friends of Mr. Bryan —practically ceased to boom him as a Presidential candidate today, though they were reported alert to take advantage of any physicological moments that happen along. It was reported that many Bryan buttons and banners had arrived in town, but they were not distributed today. Mr. Bryan's followers warmly defend the course he has pursued in the convention and say still he is in a position to dictate the nominee.

Mr. Bryan today declined to accept the chairmanship of the platform committee, but his close friend, Senator Kern, was chosen in his place. Tonight Mr. Bryan reported the platform as "coming along nicely."

It was said that the platform would be ready for the convention by the time the nomination for President had been made.

At Mr. Bryan's suggestion it was decided not to present the platform until after the nomination had been made.

In Mr. Bryan's behalf it was said that in his fight on Judge Parker for temporary chairmanship was influenced largely by a desire to get a line on the different delegations. The Nebraskan had not had an opportunity to make a poll and it was said the chairmanship fight was the only means of learning at the outset just what was to be met and dealt with.

It was generally reported about the convention hall tonight that a number of the Western Clark delegations that cast their votes for Judge Parker for temporary chairman were beginning to "hear from home" on account of alleged desertion of the progressive cause. It also was common gossip that there was a good deal of feeling between the Bryan and Clark foces.

In the committee on credentials today the Clark forces clearly controlled.

The sitting delegates from South Dakota pledged to Wilson were unseated in favor of six instructed for Clark.

There were two sessions of the convention today. The one beginning at noon was devoted almost entirely to oratory. All speakers predicted success for the party in the November elections and derided both the Taft and Roosevelt "sections" of the Republican party. Tonight the convention at a session beginning at 8 P. M. began the reports and the work of completing permanent organization.

"BIG SINISTER INFLUENCE."

Roosevelt Says It Has Determined to Eliminate Him—Campaign.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., June 26.—The issue upon which Col. Roosevelt is to make his campaign for the Presidency was indicated by him today. He purposes to base his appeal upon the assertion that what he has termed the "big sinister influences" have determined to eliminate him from public life, because he is the one man whom they really fear. To accomplish this purpose he believes they are willing to take up any man whom they think can win the Presidency over him. Having defeated him at the Chicago convention, he says, they hope to control the Democratic convention to this same end.

"They know me and I know them," he said. "It is anything to beat me. I am fighting a lone hand and I am going to fight it out to the end."

The former President made this remak after a long conference with William A. Prendergast, Comptroller of the City of New York. Mr. Prendergast came to Oyster Bay to induce Col. Roosevelt to say definitely that under no circumstances would he withdraw from the fight.

Col. Roosevelt referred to the statement he made in Chicago on Monday "that I would stay in the fight to the end. Since then I have received hundreds of letters and telegrams urging me to go on with it, and not one of them suggested that I get out of it. In every case my reply is just what I said in Chicago."

The comptroller said the reason he was anxious to make it clear that Col. Roosevelt would make the fight was that the "interests" which defeated him at Chicago would do anything in their power to keep him out of the White House, and for that purpose would gladly accept any other progressive. Col. Roosevelt corroborated this statement and added that the same interests that fought him in Chicago were hard at work at the Baltimore convention and were willing to take up any of the Democratic progressives if they thought they would thus defeat him.

Comptroller Prendergast said in a statement that he had pointed out to Col. Roosevelt that the overshadowing issue was "whether the nomination for the Presidency can be stolen, and the people given an opportunity to pass judgment on the theft."

"The object for which this fraud was perpetrated," he said, "was the defeat of Mr. Roosevelt, not the nomination of anybody else. This conspiracy will be successful if any other man is elected to the Presidency. Should either Mr. Taft or a Democrat be elected the success of the conspiracy will be complete. If the Presidency, or a nomination for it can be stolen and the thieves escape unpunished, what security can this be for property or order?"

BETTING FAVORS CLARK.

Curb Result Also Shows No Takers of Taft Money.

New York, June 25.—Betting odds on the curb in Wall Street today show that Speaker Champ Clark is looked upon as the candidate who has the best prospects of capturing the Democratic nomination for President at the Baltimore convention.

The betting was 8 to 5 that the Speaker would not get the nomination. At these odds $800 was placed against $500.

Money was offered at 2 1-2 to 1 that Wilson would not get the nomination, 3 1-2 to 1 against Harmon, 4 to 1 against Bryan, and 6 to 1 against Gaynor.

Although $1,000 was offered at even money that President Taft will not be re-elected, irrespective of who the Democratic candidate may be, the money was not covered.

Credentials Committee Reverses Decision of National Committee

Baltimore, June 26.—Completing its work shortly after the National Convention re-assembled tonight the Credentials Committee agreed to endorse the findings of the Democratic National Committee in all contested delegate cases, except those from South Dakota and the District of Columbia. In both these cases, the Clark forces succeeded in seating their instructed delegates.

Two minority reports were decided upon. In the Illinois contest where the Roger C. Sullivan delegates were seated, 40 to 10, Harry T. Creswell, the California member, reserved the right to present a minority report in favor of the Carter Harrison faction.

In the South Dakota contests where the findings of the National Committee were reversed 28 to 23, P. M. Martin, of Wisconsin, asked all of those voting for the opposing Wilson delegates to join him in a report that would carry the fight to the floor of the convention. In the three-cornered District of Columbia contest, the uninstructed delegation headed by National Committeeman Newman, which had been recognized by the National Committee, was unseated and the "Costello delegation" instructed for Clark, was endorsed. A vote on the three delegations resulted as follows:

HARMON LEAVES IT TO FRIENDS

Columbus, Ohio, June 26.—Governor Harmon spent the day in his office at the Capitol getting his information from Baltimore by occasional messages from his lieutenants and from the newspapers here.

"I will depend on friends," said Governor Harmon, "for information of interest. No one has been detailed to keep me informed. They know I am not nervous, and they will let me know if anything of interest to me happens."

When asked regarding his attitude on the fight being waged on Judge Parker for temporary chairman, Governor Harmon said:

"I am not going to mix in it at all. My friends are looking after my interests, and I am going to leave everything to them. They are on the ground and are in close touch with the situation. I do not care to discuss that case at all."

..Theatrical..

Lovers of good music and admirers of the orchestra at the Grand Theatre will be delighted to know of a special feature that will be served in attractive style today. Prof. Barbey, leader of the orchestra, has written a march dedicated to Mrs. E. Barbey and this will be played today at the Grand. It is called "The Anniversary March" and it will be listened to with much pleasure by the hundreds of patrons of the pretty theatre.

But this musical feature will not be all at the Grand today. There are to be three high-class moving picture films, one of which will be a Pathe. "Whirlwind Courtship on Braden's Ranch." This will be a thrilling Western drama and will be especially pleasing. Another feature film will be "Her Brother," a Vitagraph, that is sure to please. This film shows that one would do the same thing under the same circumstances. The hero sacrifices his money for the sake of his sweetheart. He shields and protetcs her brother and results prove that he acted wise and well. This story is put on by a capable cast and will prove one of the best that the Grand has offered in some time.

The Grand auditorium is one of the most delightful in the State. It is cooled by electric fans, is perfectly ventilated, is clean and sanitary. There is no better place in the universe to spend a delightful afternoon or evening any day.

At the Bijou.

While the weather was drear yesterday all was bright and gay in the New Bijou. In anticipation of such big crowds flocked to this popular and beautiful amusement palace, in spite of the grimaces being made by the elements, and were more than repaid, both in solid comfort, decidedly cheering in itself, and in the joy of a big show. The Bijou is undoubtedly the popular spot in Wilmington, whether the weather be fair or foul, and is decidedly appreciative of this; so much so that the management never spares expense in giving its friends the very best.

Today's bill is one of especial interest and will shine brightly with comedy and pull at the heart-strings with the very latest in the dramatic line. The music will, of course, be new, and will be of the merriest type.

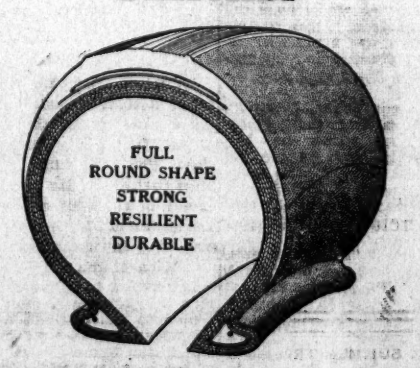

A great Selig, "The Captain of the Nancy Lee," will feature today's bill. It is one of exceptional nature, too, and it will give a fine view of nautical life. There are two leading rules in this big drama. The part of "Bess Johnson," the captain's daughter, is played by the charming actress, Miss Eugenie Besserer, while the well known comedian, George Hernandez, will be seen as "Weary Willie."

Probably the most touching film of years is "Her Gift." (Lubin) and it is one of rare charm and sweetness. Truly, today's superb Bijou offering should not be missed.

"Her Brother."

S.S.S. DRIVES OUT RHEUMATISM

Rheumatism is due to an excess of uric acid, an irritating, inflammatory accumulation, which gets into the circulation because of weak kidneys, constipation, indigestion, and other physical irregularities which are usually considered of no importance. Nothing applied externally can ever reach the seat of this trouble; the most such treatment can do is soothe the pains temporarily; while potash and other mineral medicines really add to the acidity of the blood, and this fluid therefore continually grows more acrid and vitiated. Then instead of nourishing the different muscles and joints, keeping them in a normally supple and elastic condition, it gradually hardens and stiffens them by drying up the natural oils and fluids. Rheumatism can never be cured until the blood is purified. S. S. S. thoroughly cleanses and renovates the circulation by neutralizing the acids and driving the cause from the system. It strengthens and invigorates the blood so that instead of a sour, weak stream, depositing acrid and painful corrosive matter in the muscles, joints and bones, it nourishes the entire body with pure, rich blood and permanently cures Rheumatism. S. S. S. contains no potash, alkali or other harmful mineral, but is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks of great purifying and tonic properties. Book on Rheumatism and any medical advice free to all who write.

GOVERNOR KITCHIN RESTING

Soon to Make Statement of His Record—Third Regiment Maneuvers—Hearing of Betts Case. Republicans Fight.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., June 26.—Governor Kitchin, who left Raleigh early last week for Hendersonville, to deliver an address for the State Medical Society in annual session there, is still out of the city and inquiry at the executive office elicits the information that the Governor is supposed to have stopped over at some quiet resort for a few days' rest preparatory for the arduous campaign work that is just ahead in the Senatorial contest.

Also it is learned that there is forthcoming in connection with the Senatorial campaign a statement of the official record of Governor Kitchin. The criticisms of Governor Kitchin on the record of Senator Simmons has brought out inquiries as to the record of Governor Kitchin and those close to the Governor say that the people are about to be favored with a complete presentation of the Governor's record in Congress, as Governor and in his other service to the State and the country at large.

Assurances from Washington that there is the strongest sort of probability that Congress wil take care of the cost of the proposed joint maneuvers of State Guardsmen and regulars in connection with which the Third Regiment of North Carolina is scheduled to go to Anniston, Ala., are most agreeable to the State authorities here. The indications are that a special act will be rushed through Congress to cover this item of several millions of dollars that was tied up in the general bill that President Taft vetoed. If the State should have to provide an encampment for the Third Regiment it would cost $12,000. The Federal allowance for the movement of the Third to Anniston is about $20,000. The item of transportation alone amounts to over $10,000.

No time is set yet for the hearing of Levene Betts, being held without bail for stabbing to death his older brother, Clifton Betts, Sunday afternoon. There is still no direct evidence to contradict the claims of the boy and the other members of the family say that the killing was accidental, while the two were scuffling in fun on the couch in the hall of the Betts home. However, there are a number of phases of the case that constrain the officers to hold the case open as long as they can to await developments. For one thing, the boy shows a total lack of that degree of sorrow and nerve-strain that would naturally be expected on the part of a normal 15-year-old boy who had accidentally killed his brother. The officers are impelled to the idea that either the boy was angry and stabbed his brother because he was mad with him, or else he did not do the stabbing at all and it was attributed to him because he could be gotten off with least punishment or the story of accidental stabbing in a boyish scuffle would be accepted. However, there is a very general tendency to accept the statement that the killing was accidental as the boy and other members of the family are insisting it was.

CONVENTION SCENES.

Wilson's Forces Had Complete Possession of the Floor at Night.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Baltimore, June 26.—The one thing that stands out to the front in today's convention proceedings was the fight to prevent the unit rule in Ohio and the anti-Harmon or Wilson forces won out by 50 majority. The entire Wilson strength supported the minority report of the Credentials Committee and it was augmented in many States by those who did not think a State convention should interfere when there was a primary law. This caused the vote in many instances to line up different from what it was on the Parker and Bryan fight. Tonight's victory by the Wilson forces has added wonderfully to his strength and the Wilson people feel highly elated and the Clark people somewhat beaten. It is very apparent that every inch of ground will be contested by the opposing elements of the party and it is difficult to see how any candidate in the field can be nominated. A dark horse appears more probable as the line between the opposing forces is drawing tighter.

One feature of the convention tonight was the remarkable demonstration which began when an Ohio speaker mentioned Wilson's name and after it had lasted for some minutes the Underwood forces produced banners and it began anew. Those favoring the other candidates endeavored to be heard, but the Wilson people had the greatest following and the Underwood forces next. No banners were seen or pictures held aloft of any other candidates. The demonstration lasted for more than half an hour and at times became such as to alarm the police. It is stated shortly before the demonstration closed 200 reserves were hurried to the hall, but it was not necessary for them to enter. Arthur Brisbane, of the Hearst papers and a bearer of a Wilson banner, had a fight of short duration when the Wilson man tried to get over the press rail and stand among Hearst's writers with his banner. Another man carrying a banner crawled on the press on the back of the chair of a lady reporter and newspaper men had to jerk him from the back of the chair which the girl was endeavoring to get away. In jerking him from the chair he fell on the desk of the lady reporter, but scrambled to his feet and proceeded wildly across the tops of the press tables.

A Tammany leader this afternoon told me than New York leaders had decided Harmon could not be nominated and that they did not want Clark. At the proper time the New York vote would be thrown to him and every effort made to nominate him. He stated that this afternoon the Tammany men had gone to betting two to one and in some instances as high as three to one on Clark. The man who gave me this information was strongly opposed to Clark.

FOR ALLEN TRIAL

Panel of 100 Men Being Summoned—Plans Changed

Bristol, Tenn., June 26.—A panel of 100 men is being summoned from Washington to the county in which Bristol is situated, to be present at Wytheville Monday morning for the resumption of the trials of the members of the Allen gang. It developed today that the commonwealth has changed its plan and instead of next trying Claude Swanson Allen for the murder of Sheriff Lew Webb, in the recent Hillsville shooting, he will be placed on trial Monday for the murder of commonwealth's attorney. A. M. Foster. It also developed that his defense will be that he has already been in jeopardy for the crime, having been convicted for the murder of Judge Thornton Massie and his punishment fixed at 15 years in the State penitentiary.

The men yet to be tried are Friel and Victor Allen and Edwards, in addition to the outlaws yet at large. Judge Staples will try them separately, beginning Monday until the cases of all in custody have been disposed of. Claude Allen's father, Floyd Allen, now under conviction of murder in the first degree will be a witness in all of the trials.

Kansas City, Mo., June 26.—Tommy Dixon, featherweight champion boxer of the South, was matched here tonight to meet Johnny Kilbane for the world's featherweight championship at Cleveland Julye 4th. The bout will be of 12 rounds.

effect will be on the nominating vote tomorrow. The convention has taken this stand for the right principle, for I don't believe any convention has the right to overrule a State law."

The result of the roll call as announced showed that the Wilson-Bryan forces had won the test. The figures secured by the tally clerks varied widely on the final result, however.

The vote was announced as ayes 555 1-2, noes 495 3-4. This was later amended to 565 1-2 ayes. A careful unofficial count gave ayes 565 1-2; noes 491 1-3.

The Wilson delegates began a demonstration. It was short lived and Chairman Parker, seizing a gavel put the question of adopting the amended report. It was adopted by a viva voce vote.

A tired delegate tried to move to adjourn until tomorrow, but was not recognized.

A partial report on the credentials committee was presented by Joseph E. Bell, chairman of that committee. The report embraced the Illinois, South Dakota and several minor contests.

Immediately upon the presentation of the report, Senator Luke Lea, of Tennessee, announcing that a minority report, which would entail considerable discussion, would be presented, moved to adjourn until 2 o'clock tomorrow.

A roar of dissent went up from the floor and when Chairman Parker put the motion is was drowned in a chorus of "Noes." A motion to adjourn until noon tomorrow was then put through under the gavel, although delegates on the floor shouted: "Make it 10 o'clock. Make it 10 o'clock."

The convention adjourned at 11:59.

ANOMALOUS SITUATION

Taft Will Send Message In Regard to Deficiency

Washington, June 26.—President Taft will send a message to Congress probably tomorrow pointing out the anomalous situation whereby the machinery of the Federal government must continue in operation in direct violation of law, making officials liable to fine and imprisonment, unless steps are taken immediately to provide funds for the fiscal year beginning July 1st.

The President will appeal for the passage of a resolution extending the necessary appropriations for the current fiscal year for a temporary period to tide over the emergency caused by the failure of the regular and deficiency appropriation bills to be enacted into law. It is expected that such a resolution will be introduced by both Houses tomorrow.

Every executive department of the government was busy today under the President's orders preparing contingent estimates. It is unlawful for any official to create a deficiency or to accept the services of any one gratuitously. Unless Congress acts, it is pointed out in administration circles, one of these laws must be violated to some extent because government business cannot come to a standstill.

As the urgent deficiency bill has not yet been passed, nearly all of the departments, it is said, are violating the letter of the law forbidding the creation of deficiencies, by continuing work covered by the bill.

The Navy Department is going slow in risking a violation of law, and if appropriations are not made, the civil employes of the navy yards and many in the department here will be furloughed on Monday.

Macon, Ga., June 26.—The Macon Chamber of Commerce today petitioned Governor Joseph Brown, of Georgia, to call a conference of Southern Governors and business men to be held in Atlanta July 10th, to give consideration to the plan of the Southern States Cotton Corporation for the marketing of the cotton crop on a fifteen-cent basis. Four Southern Governors already favor the conference.

Thursday, June 27, 1912.

Col. Bryan is used to getting beaten. He always gets downed on something he starts himself.

Why not combine all the Indian "nations" and make our only ex-President chief of all the Wahhoos?

Quite a number of the delegates to the Baltimore convention claim that they have been relieved of their money. What hotel do they suspect?

Instead of shooting the roof off the convention hall at Chicago, the Rough Rider's delegates decided to protest in silence. Probably they were afraid of the police.

Col. Roosevelt explains that Chicago didn't treat him right. When he gets a third term he will be in a position to permit the Steel Trust to gobble up Chicago.

Says the Portland Express: "Lawn hose and silk hose are very much in the public eye just now." We have failed to observe a single one of em wearing hose made of lawn.

Colonel Roosevelt declares that the Teddycrat party will have nothing to do with the G. O. P. However, the G. O. P. was the first to refuse to have anything to do with him.

Convention cities can afford to put up with all that is said about them before and after a convention. Chicago pocketed $5,000,000 from Republicans who attended the pow-wow there last week.

Says a Baltimore dispatch: "There are many notable figures attending the National Democratic convention." No doubt of it, for Baltimore ladies certainly know how to make a good appearance.

Heney, one of the Roosevelt party's California organizers, is in Baltimore holding a conference with the Hon. Wm. J. Bryan. It would be a Heneyous crime for him to try to induce the Nebraskan to ally himself with the Teddycrat party.

Instead of belonging to the choir, Bob Phillips, of the Greensboro News, belongs to the real pie brigade and the amalgamated association of chicken chasers. As usual, Bob has been on his Summer job following up church conferences, conventions and societies. The line of least resistance with the Greensboro eater is following the preachers and getting eats that would make an optimist out of Eugene V. Debs.

The Chinese have cut off their pigtails, but Americans still stick to their fairy tales and believe that if you kill a cat you will have seven years' trouble. Lots of people here would rather go broke themselves than to live in dread of the bad luck that follows the breaking of a looking glass, while others would not think of turning back without making a cross mark and spitting in it. The Chinese are not the only queer folks.

The Cone Johnson South Atlantic League will please note how Cone scintillated in the limelight at Baltimore on Tuesday. The Texan sent hot balls right over the plate and everybody cheered him. Editor Gonzales, of the Columbia State, president of the Cone Johnson League will please order an investigation into the failure of the convention to be stampeded to Cone for the Vice Presidential nomination. As a member of the league, The Star is proud that the Hon. Cone Johnson waded right in and disdained anything like displaying the temerity of his predilictions.

COL. BRYAN'S SET BACK

When a man starts a fight and gets the worst of it, he can blame himself. Col. Bryan is in that position, for in starting a fight on Judge Alton B. Parker for temporary chairman of the Baltimore convention he forced himself into a controversy which had to be settled then and there. The Colonel's opposition to Parker resulted in Bryan's being nominated for temporary chairman himself. In the voting he lost out, and he ought to take his defeat gracefully, for many of his friends urged him not to raise such an issue at the beginning of the convention.

Col. Bryan's course made it exceedingly embarrassing for many of his strongest friends. They had to vote against him because they could not see any good in raising the question of "progressive" or "reactionary" Democrats in this political crisis. There has been a disposition for all Democrats to get together in this effort to carry the country, and they ought all to be progressive or conservative as the convention decides best for the party.

As a matter of fact, the party is progressive, and all Democrats want to be progressive if it takes that to win. Judge Parker, in his speech accepting the temporary chairmanship and, delivering the keynote of Democracy, declared: "There are no reactionaries. Whatever they have been once there are none now. The Democrats are progressive." That is all Col. Bryan or any other Democrat could expect from Judge Parker. His remarks showed complete acquiesce in the determination of all Democrats to win this election. That is not all. The eminent New York jurist went on to say:

"Now it may possibly be true that here in this great convention with all these able men coming from every section of the country, I say it may be true that all of you will not be able to agree at once that a single highway constitutes the only road to progress; but you will all agree upon this one proposition, that the voice of the majority of this convention, speaking through its Committee on Resolutions and by the adoption of the committee's report by the convention shall speak the will of every Democrat in this land."

These remarks by Judge Parker show that he was urging all Democrats to stand by whatever platform the convention should adopt. While doing that he generously urged Col. Bryan's appointment as chairman of the Committee on Resolutions. That was placing it practically in the power of Col. Bryan to write the party's platform, and it was a conciliatory proposition which must have caused Col. Bryan to regret that he had fought Parker and called him the candidate of the Wall Street combination. It was unfortunate that such a fight was precipitated, for no reasonable man can believe that Wall Street had a thing to do with Judge Parker's selection for temporary chairman. He was selected by the National Committee without his knowledge and to say that he was Wall Street's choice is to accuse the National Committee of being dominated by Wall Street.

Col. Bryan seems to have taken offense because the convention refused to take his dictation as to temporary chairman. Leastwie he afterwards refused to be made chairman of the committee on resolutions. After reading Parker's strong Democratic speech, Col. Bryan must now realize that there is not in it a single thing that all Democrats could not subscribe to and to which he must agree himself, unless he thinks too much of Roosevelt to endorse what Judge Parker so aptly said about the head of the Republican "progressives." Judge Parker had Col. Bryan's endorsement in 1904, and there is more reason why he should endorse him today. The Judge's speech shows that he is as anxious to win as Col. Bryan is, and furthermore that he was even willing beforehand to commit himself to a platform that might be written by Col. Bryan. It really seems that an apology is due Judge Parker and certainly thanks are due him by Col. Bryan for generously recommending him as the platform maker.

Our opinion is that Col. Bryan greatly endangered the "progressive" cause by his fight on Parker. It paved the way for a combination which looks bad for the chances of Woodrow Wilson, the strongest "progressive" of all the Democratic candidates for President.

OUR TRADE WITH SOUTH AMERICA

Wilmington is represented in the increased trade which the United States had with South American countries this year. The fiscal year closes June 30th, but already it is known that our export trade with South America will foot up $135,000,000 this year. Wilmington's share in that is represented by two cargoes of pig iron shipped through this port from Birmingham, Ala., for Chile, and by several shipments of peanuts exported by way of New York. Shipments through New York, however, are credited to that port, and Wilmington will not get credit for her peanut exports till we begin to have direct trade by steamers calling here or coming directly to the port when the Panama canal opens.

Increase of trade between the United States and South America countries indicates what the possibilities are when the canal is ready for traffic. The considerable increase already made is evidence of the fact that our traders are getting a foothold in the Latin countries, and when we consider how small our present share is compared with that of European countries, it will dawn upon us how tremendous will be the possibilities for commerce when we begin to reap the benefiet of more direct communication on account of the canal and the opportunity that will be afforded by the consequent increase of steamship service.

The chances for us to greatly increase our South American trade can be better realized when it is emphasized that the 7,000,000 people of Canada buy twice as much from the United States as do the entire 49,000,000 of South Americans. It is quite plain that we have not exploited South America for commerce, or that there is some cause for our letting European countries practically monopolize the trade of our South American neighbors.

In the ten years from 1890 to 1900 our imports from South America increased from $101,000,000 to $102,000,000, while our exports increased from $35,000,000 to $41,000,00. Our trade increased with Brazil, Argentina, Chili and other countries, but the whole is very small compared with the trade of European countries with the South Americans.

It is said American textiles are hardly known in South America and that there is not only a great field there for our cotton manufactures but for other products of factories of all kinds. The fact that we really have such a small trade shows what a fine opportunity we will have to enlarge it on great lines.

JACKSONVILLE'S PUBLIC PIERS

Jacksonville is getting down to work in earnest on the proposition to establish municipal harbor terminals to promote and conserve the commercial interests of that port. We judge so from what the Jacksonville Metropolis says in urging hearty co-operation in the movement of the Jacksonville Board of Trade which has had prepared plans for a fine system of docks, piers and warehouses as the best means of taking care of that port's present commerce and whatever will come there because of the anticipated increase in our trade with South America when the Panama canal is ready for business.

Ports which expect to meet the demands of ocean traffic and make themselves great distributing points for water and rail freights, ought not to wait for the Panama canal to open. General commerce can be greatly increased now by providing proper harbor facilities for handling ships and cargoes, but the opportunity for a greater commerce will be two-fold in view of the traffic to be created by the Isthmian waterway. New Orleans already has begun to do a greater commerce because of her new public terminals. Even with the canal uncompleted, the Crescent City has found it possible to open up a considerable export and import business with South America.

Giff Pinchot and Jim Garfield can afford to bolt. They have nothing to lose, and everything to gain by getting even with Taft.

Elbert Hubbard says: "The average man does not know what is in him." Well, if he did he would be sure to swear off on the instant.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Cincinnati women want a curfew for men only. When a man has to be chased home it is plain he needs other inducements.—Floyd (Va.) Press.

Statistics of the cotton goods industry show an interesting rivalry between New England and the South. The first is still a long way in the lead but the latter is gaining fast.—New York World.

Huh! Lincoln went into history for splitting a few measly old rails. Look what Teddy has done. Isn't it more wonderful that one man could split the grand old party?—Jacksonville Times-Union.

The Congressman who introduced a resolution to return this country to the Indians because he believed Roosevelt would be nominated at Chicago and Bryan at Baltimore may now have the privilege of withdrawing it.—Richmond Virginian.

When Roosevelt saw that Butler was seated as a delegate from North Carolina he ought to have known he was doomed. Butler kills every political move with which he is identified. He is a first-class hoodoo.—Greensboro Record.

The London press tries to make its dazed readers understand the Chicago situation by figuring a fierce battle between the Asquith wing and the Lloyd-George wing of the liberal party, with the balance of power controlled by half a hundred Kaffir delegates from South Africa.—Springfield Republican.

It is safe to predict that the Aldrich central bank plan will be sprung upon the North Carolina Bankers' Association at Morehead City this week and that an endorsement of its provisions will be solicited from them. They doubtless do not in the least want it, but it comes in a manner very hard to resist.—Charlotte Observer.

We have criticised Colonel Roosevelt frequently and sometimes harshly, and our opinion that he is a dangerously ambitious and generally unreliable person will not be changed, but at this climax of his career, as we look over the field of Chicago strewn with the wreckage of the Republican party, we love him for the damage that he has done.—Columbia State.

The proposal of the Rooseveltians for a third party will find a precedent already in the field, the birth of a so-called "Progressive Party" having taken place in Pittsburgh in July, 1911, when preemptive papers were filed at Harrisburg. Only last week was the nomination on this party's ticket tendered to William H. Berry for State Treasurer.—Chester (Pa.) Republican.

Instead of the usual noise and racket New York, we are told, is to be regaled on the approaching Fourth of July with "music and song from sunrise till sunset." Whether or not the proposed innovation will constitute an improvement remains to be seen. On more than one occasion it has been our misfortune to have to listen to so-called "music and song," to which almost any other kind of noise and racket would have been greatly preferable.—Norfolk Virginia-Pilot.

A HIT—A PALPABLE HIT

(Concord Times, June 24.)

Even if Governor Kitchin should succeed in his effort to prove Senator Simmons was not fit to succeed himself in the Senate would he not have to go all over the State again to prove that he himself was fit for the job? The Governor dwells at length on records. He has been in office sixteen years and if he has a record of large achievements even his staunchest supporters have failed to produce it. Is the Governor occupying all of his time in attacking his opponent in order to keep the public eye away from his own record? It begins to look that way.

EVERYBODY WANTS SOUVENIRS.

Headquarters, Delegations and Venders Do Big Business.

Baltimore, June 26.—Baltimoreans have the fever. Not the typhoid, of course. But most of the citizens are devoting their spare moments to securing a collection of badges and buttons. Hardly a Baltimore boy can be found who has not started his collection. And the children are not alone in this craze, for many of the grown-ups cast envious eyes at every pretty badge they see.

Wilson boomers, Clark boomers, Harmon boomers, Marshall boomers and Gaynor Boomers, as well as others who brought thousands of buttons along with them, are scattering their badges about and all are finding takers. The headquarters of the "favorite sons" are being besieged by souvenir hunters.

Buttons similar to those found in cigarette boxes are being ignored, and already thousands of that kind have been cast aside on the streets to be swept up by the white wings. The delegations that have a stock of the more attractive kind are becoming favorites with the local souvenir gatherers, and if every man who has promised to work for certain candidates makes good his word there will be more than one Democratic President in the White House after next March.

Fathers who mix with the political "sooth-sayers," are worried by their little boys, who desire to outdo the "kid" next door in the gathering contest. The street venders are doing a big business and many who have failed to get a souvenir "gratis" purchase a ribbon or flag.

OUTLOOK EXCELLENT.

Wilson Says Chances of Nomination Are Brighter.

Seagirt, N. J., June 26.—"The outlook at Baltimore is excellent," Governor Wilson said this afternoon after conferring by telephone with his campaign managers there.

"How do you regard your prospects for the nomination?"

"Excellent," he repeated.

"Have you heard the report at Baltimore that to insure harmony you have agreed to accept second place on the ticket?"

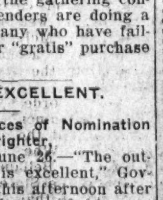

"All that I care to say about that," the Governor replied, "is that it is the futile talk of men who are desperate in their desire to beat me."

The Flesh Maker

MONEY BACK IN ANY CASE WHERE SAMOSE FAILS TO INCREASE THE WEIGHT.

WEIGH YOURSELF BEFORE USING

Weigh yourself before commencing to use Samose, the great flesh-forming food. The wonderful sales on this preparation since first introduced in Wilmington and the remarkable results following its use have made J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co., such enthusiastic believers in the great value of Samose that they give their personal guarantee to refund the money if Samose will not make thin people fat and restore strength and health to those who use it.

This is a strong guarantee, but they have seen so many of their customers who a few weeks ago looked like walking skeletons become plump and well, through the use of Samose, they feel they cannot say too much to induce people to try it.

This marvelous flesh-forming food is assimilated as soon as it is taken into the stomach, and makes good, rich blood, tones up the weakened system, helps to assimilate the food, and makes the user plump, well and rosy.

HOW TO GAIN HEALTHY FLESH

While thinness may not be a disease, yet it is in reality a condition that needs attention. Under the nourishing power of Samose healthy, natural flesh will soon be attained.

This remarkable flesh-forming food strengthens the system generally and builds up the fleshy tissues so that good, natural plumpness results.

An ounce of flesh is better than a pound of theory. J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co., believe that the best possible demonstration of the flesh-forming powers of Samose is to have it tried by their customers, and to induce them to use it, they offer to pay for the Samose in case it does not give satisfaction. No stronger proof than this can be given of their faith in it. They have seen hundreds who were weak, thin and scrawny, become plump, robust and strong, solely through the use of Samose. Ten days' treatment, 50c.

THIN FOLKS MADE FAT.

Good, healthy flesh can only be gained by the use of proper food together with natural action of the organs of assimilation. Nine people out of ten, in order to weigh as much as they ought, and be perfectly healthy, should use Samose, the great flesh-forming food and health restorer. Weigh yourself before commencing to take these little tablets and see how your weight increases from week to week. Large box for 50c.

Samose does not contain a particle of starch or pepsin, nor is it any nauseating preparation, such as is usually recommended to make people fat, and which does not build up good healthy tissues, Samose has valuable flesh-forming properties, tones up and strengthens the whole system, helps the food that is eaten to be assimilated in a natural manner, and absolutely restores health to all organs.

If you are not perfectly satisfied with the result from Samose, J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co. will return your money without quibbling.

SULLIVAN MEN SEATED.

Credentials Committee Votes for His Delegates.

Baltimore, June 26.—The 20 Roger C. Sullivan delegates from the 10 Congressional districts in Cook county, Illinois, were seated this afternoon by the credentials committee by a vote of 40 to 10.

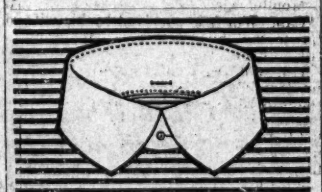

A minority report will be presented to the convention. Those who voted against the Sullivan faction were:

Little, of Arizona; Croswell, California; Miller, Nebraska; Carney, Nevada; Kelly, North Dakota; Moses, Oregon; Young, Kentucky; McCormick, Pennsylvania; Whitmore, Utah; Molnia, Porto Rico.

Mayor Carter Harrison, of Chicago, and Roger Sullivan, National committeeman from Illinois, indulged in counter charges before the credentials committee early this afternoon over the police control exercised at the Cook county Democratic convention. Mayor Harrison said he had detailed 285 policemen and 25 plain clothes men to preserve order; while Mr. Sullivan charged him with having planned to control the convention.

Council Adopts Resolution Requiring Removal of Certain Obstructions. Other Matters Before the Body Yesterday.

Featured by the adoption of resolutions providing for the removal of certain piazzas, steps and buildings from the sidewalks in several different parts of the city within 60 days and another resolution notifying certain persons who had already received one notice that the obstructions must be removed without further delay, the City Council was in regular weekly session for two hours yesterday morning.

Immediately after the meeting a conference was held with the city attorney upon some phase of the sewerage question, which, it begins to appear, will not be settled during the life of the present administration, action being deferred from one meeting to another as reguarly as the meetings are held.

The first matter to claim attention of the Council was brought up by Wm. J. Bellamy, Esq., as counsel for Mr. Frank Galloway, who, it seems, had his automobile damaged by running over a manhole protruding above the ground three or four inches on Ninth street, between Princess and Chestnut, a few nights ago. It is claimed that the tires were damaged to the extent of $80, but Mr. Bellamy stated that his client was willing to adjust the matter by the city replacing the tires. He said that there was no disposition to have a suit over the matter. Council decided to make an investigation through the proper officials and will act at a later meeting.

Col. Walker Taylor and Mr. S. M. Boatwright, well known fire insurance men, were present to call attention to the fact that the inspectors of the North Carolina Fire Prevention Association will make an inspection in Wilmington July 10th and 11th, and asked for the co-operation of Council and citizens generally. Mr. Boatwright spoke first, saying that the purpose of the association is to reduce the fire waste. The association is making an inspection of practically all cities and towns in the State. So far Wilson holds first honor, and it was Mr. Boatwright's hope that Wilmington will make the best showing of any. Supplementing what Mr. Boatwright had said, Col. Taylor said that there would be 10 or 20 experienced inspectors here, and that they would make a most thorough examination. Aready 73 cities or towns have been inspected. Col. Taylor mentioned the fact that 80 per cent. of the fires in North Carolina are preventable.

Wilmington, he said, has the lowest fire insurance rate of any town in North Carolina, due to the fact that it has a superior fire department, good streets, water works system, etc., and it must maintain this rate by keeping the the premises able to reduce to a minimum the probability of fire. He said that when the inspectors arrive Council would be asked to call a public meeting of citizens for the purpose of arousing general interest in the movement.

Councilman B. C. Moore said that he would have the sanitary police, firemen and police officers to make inspection during the next week or ten days, so as to have the town in just as good condition as possible when the visitors make their inspection.

Council having given notice at the last regular meeting that the matter of requiring the removal of all obstructions, such as piazzas, steps, etc., from the sidewalks, would be considered at this time, a number of persons who would be affected by the change were present.

K. C. Sidbury, Esq., representing the recent purchaser of the property at the northeast corner of Third and Market streets, was first heard. He stated that his client had no objection to the proposed requirement of Council, provided all persons were fed out of the same spoon. Mayor Smith suggested that he meant to say that if St. James' church was required to remove the steps jutting on the streets that his client would gladly set back his building. Mr. Sidbury answered in the affirmative.

The clerk then read a communication from the chief of police giving the names of those upon whom notice was served of the proposed action of Council. A. J. Marshall, Esq., representing Mr. F. J. Gooding, who formerly owned the property at northwest corner of Third and Market streets, and who has possession until October 1st, 1912, stated that he hoped Council would not require any change in the building at this time, as it was the purpose of the new owner to erect a handsome building on the property just as soon as the present lease expires in the Fall. The new building, he said, will cost $75,000 or $100,000.

Mr. Marshall was assured that satisfactory arrangements as to this could be made.

Mr. John H. Strauss, who owns property on Second street, between Dock and Orange streets, the west side, was next heard. He said that the writer of an article in Sunday's paper expressed his views upon the question. He insisted upon the Mayor reading the article, but His Honor said that he had already read it. Mr. Strauss said that he was not financially able to tear away the piazza and rearrange the front of the house. He declared that it was an outrage to make people change the fronts of the old buildings. He said that if the city persisted in an effort to have the piazza removed that it would have to take his property, as he was not able to stand the expense. He was asked by Mayor Smith what he would take for the property, and he replied that he did not know, but after thinking for a moment he said he might take $20,000.

Hon. John D. Bellamy, who owns property adjoining that of Mr. Strauss, and who has been required to pave with granolithic the sidewalk in front of his property and up to Mr. Strauss' corner, said that it was not right for Council to require him to go to the expense of paving the sidewalk and then prevent his property being enhanced to its true value on account of the obstruction from Mr. Strauss' property. He said that if Mr. Strauss was a widow, or poor man, it might be different, but that Mr. Strauss was a rich man, worth $100,000 or more.

Mayor Smith stated that he had had a talk with Mr. J. V. Grainger with reference to the attitude of St. James' church, corner Third and Market streets, and that he said he would be out of the city when the matter was heard, but that Capt. Thos. D. Meares, city clerk and treasurer, would probably talk for the church. Capt. Meares said that if it were left to him, he would have to find the church guilty. Mayor Smith said that he gathered from the conversation that it is the purpose of the church to contest the matter in the courts.

While the city attorney was preparing an ordinance to require the removal of the obstructions on certain streets, Council proceeded to the consideration of other business. Later in the meeting the following resolution was introduced and adopted:

"Resolved, That whereas it has been brought to the attention of the Council that the fololwing obstructions exist in the city in the most thickly settled portion thereof, and extend over and almost across the whole sidewalk in many instances, to wit:

"1. The piazza of the property of John H. Strauss, extending across the sidewalk on Second, between Dock and Orange streets.

"2. The steps of St. James' church, extending across the sidewalks on Third street.

"3. The piazza of Mrs. E. Y. Wooten, extending across the sidewalk on Third street, between Market and Dock streets.

"4. The piazza of Mrs. M. A. Potter, encroaching on Market, between Second and Third streets.

"5. The piazza of F. J. Gooding, encroaching on Market street, at northwest corner of Third and Market streets.

"6. The piazza and building of Dr. Geo. G. Thomas, on Market street, between Third and Fourth streets.

"7. Buiding and fence of Dr. Geo. G. Thomas, encroaching on Fourth street, between Market and Princess streets.

"Now be it Resolved, That all of said obstructions shall be removed witnin 60 days from this date, and to that end the Chief of Police is instructed to notify the said owners of said premises, respectively, to proceed within said time to remove the said obstructions from the streets on or across which they extend, and on the failure of said owners to remove the same, the chief of police is hereby directed and instructed to proceed to clear the said streets of said obstructions; and the said chief of police is further instructed to enforce the collection of the penalty prescribed by the ordinance of this city for each and every day thereafter that said obstructions shall remain upon said streets."

Another resolution was adopted to the effect that Mr. James Owen Reilly, as agent, be notified that the iron railing on the sidewalk on the south side of Princess, between Front and Second streets, must be removed, previous notice having been given that Council had acted upon this matter. The same resolution provided that Mr. Thos. F. Bagley remove at once the steps leading from the sidewalk to the second floor of the building owned by him, next west of the People's Savings Bank, on Princess street, and also a notice to the owner of the property at southeast corner of Water and Princess streets to remove steps leading to the second floor on the Princess street side.

Licenses were granted, upon the approval of Councilman B. C. Moore, as follows: G. F. Cumber, meat market, 1024 South Third; C. H. Casteen, soft drinks, 407 Taylor; Martha Moseley, soft drinks, 510 Nixon; W. V. Cumming, cold drinks, 202 Meares; D. Kuturkis, peanut and soft drink stand, in front of Airdome; Susan Staton, soft drinks, Nixon, between Fourth and Fifth; J. F. Sellers, meat market, 1116 North Fourth; Wm. Martin, restaurant, 124 South 11th street.

The applicatica of W. B. Crumpler to sell soft drinks at 138 South Front street was not approved by Councilman B. C. Moore for the reason, he said, that the applicant is selling whiskey. The license was therefore not granted. Councilman Tiencken said that he could not understand how it is that application for a license is refused a man on the ground he is selling whiskey and yet there is a law, State law, which prohibits the sale of whiskey. In other words, that if Council was certain enough that the applicant was selling whiskey to refuse him license then it appeared that he could be convicted of the charge.

"Yes, and do know the reason, too," said Councilman B. C. Moore. "If I were Recorder I would break up this whiskey selling in a mighty few weeks."

Dr. Chas. T. Nesbitt, city superintendent of health, brought to attention of Council the fact that there have been a number of persons bitten by mad dogs in the past few weeks and he asked that an ordinance be adopted requiring all dogs running at large be muzzled. It was ascertained that an ordinance was adopted in May giving the Mayor the power to issue a proclamation in time of an epidemic of this kind requiring that all dogs be muzzled. The proclamation, the ordinance reads, must be published in the papers before it is effective.

Reverting again to the obstruction ordinance, it was stated that it was the purpose of Council to clear the sidewalks in every part of the city of piazzas, steps or buildings, and the chief of police has already been instructed to furnish a list of such places from time to time.

Councilman B. C. Moore made report of his investigations with reference to an incinerator. A representative of a firm that manufactures incinerators was here last week and went over the situation and he had stated that an incinerator of the size needed here, 25 ton capacity, would cost about $25,000. This would take care of the carrion and trash without the expense of fuel. It could be operated by one man. The plant is not built with the idea of taking care of refuse, but in some places it is used for this purpose to the extent of 10 per cent. of its capacity. The company is willing for the city to practically make its own terms. Councilman Moore said that it was his impression that an incinerator is not practical for the purpose of destroying refuse and he recommended that the city provide a disposal basin below the city and that also the sanitary department stables be moved to that part of town. The sanitary work could be done cheaper, he said, because two loads could be made each night instead of one as at present.

Mayor Smith asked what he must say to the County Board of Health at its meeting tomorrow in reply to the demand that the city begin by that time the work of installing an incinerator. Councilman Tiencken suggested that he report progress. Councilman B. C. Moore said that he wanted it understood that if Council had appointed him as a committee to investigate merely in order to kill time and to appease the public, that he had something else to occupy his attention. Mayor Smith said that he had written to Richmond, Portsmouth and other cities asking for information relative to an incinerator and it was suggested that while waiting for replies that Councilman B. C. Moore ascertain whether or not he can purchase or lease property south of the city for the disposal basin.

City Attorney McClammy received a letter from Geo. B. Elliott, Esq., assistant general counsel of the Atlantic Coast Line, to the effect that negotiations are pending between the Coast Line and the Seaboard Air Line looking to a settlement of their mutual rights in the strip of land heretofore exclusively occupied by the Seaboard Air Line under Fourth street at Hilton bridge. He said that he was hopeful that the negotiations will lead to a settlement in the near future. The city is interested in the matter to the extent that it is looking to one or both of the roads to build a new bridge over the railroad tracks on Fourth street.

After being in session for two hours Council adjourned for a conference with the city attorney on the sewerage question.

CAPT. ALBERT H. WORTH.

Passed Away Yesterday at Elizabeth City at Advanced Age.

Yesterday afternoon's Fayetteville Observer has the folowing of interest to many friends in the Cape Fear section:

"A telegram was received here today by Mrs. N. A. Sinclair, announcing the death of her brother, Capt. Albert H. Worth, at 1 o'clock this morning, at his home in Elizabeth City, aged about 72 years. Capt. Worth suffered a stroke of apoplexy some weeks ago, and has gradually been failing since. He was a son of the late Addison Worth, of this city, one of our most prominent citizens and business men and largely interested in the boating business on the Cape Fear river. Capt. Worth was himself a steamboat captain for years. He was a man of big heart and manly qualities, and his friends, who were many, were drawn to him by his attractive personality. At the outbreak of the Civil War he went to the front with the Fayetteville Independent Light Infantry Company (Company H, 1st N. C. regiment), as first sergeant, and afterwards joined Co. 1, 22nd N. C. He was in the battles of Bethel, Williamsburg, Seven Pines, Seven Days Fight Around Richmond, and was wounded in the battle of Gaines' Mill on the 27th of January, 1862. His leg was crushed so that he was in the hospital a long time, and he suffered from that wound all of his life. As soon as he was able to travel on crutches, he carried arms and ammunition from the arsenal here to the army, going as far north as Fredericksburg, Va., and as far south as Mobile, Ala.

"Capt. Worth is survived by his wife and four children—two daughters, Mrs. Edson Carter and Miss Mary Worth, and two sons, Messrs. Albert and Winfield A. Worth, all of whom reside in Elizabeth City; also by three sisters, Mrs. Thos. Murphy, of Salisbury; Mrs. J. S. Moody, of Globe, Ariz., and Mrs. N. A. Sinclair, of Fayetteville, and by a brother, Mr. Stephen G. Worth, of Arkansas.

"Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Sinclair left here today for Elizabeth City, where the funeral services will be conducted tomorrow."

MR. E. M. WILLIAMS PROMOTED.

Former Wilmingtonian Making Good With Southern Express Co.

The many friends of Mr. Edgar R. Williams, son of Capt. Jno. R. Williams, of this city, will read with pleasure the following from a recent issue of the Birmingham, Ala., Age-Herald, telling of his recent promotion to the position of Second Vice President of the Southern Express Company:

"The following information taken from a circular promulgated by the president of the Southern Express Company, New York City, will be of much interest to people in this section:

"'Effective July 1, 1912, Mr. Edgar M. Williams, general manager, western department, Birmingham, is appointed second vice president in charge of traffic, with headquarters in Chattanooga, Tenn.'

"Prior to this appointment in 1908, as general superintendent of the western department, Southern Express Company, with headquarters at Birmingham, Mr. Williams was assistant to the president in New York.

"In 1910 he was promoted to general manager of the western department, at Birmingham, which position he has held until the present time.

"The continued advancement of Mr. Williams in the express world, while yet a young man, indicates what energy and ability can accomplish without a pull.

"He is a member of the Country and Southern Clubs, and since locating here married Miss Helen Juliet Sexton, of Milwaukee. They have been popular socially and it will be much regretted by their many friends that the change in his field of duty will mean removal from their beautiful Sycamore street home to Chattanooga."

LONG SESSION YESTERDAY

Sitting of Recorder's Court Lasted Until Well on in Afternoon—Several Farm Sentences—Abandonment Case.

Though the cases were for the most part not of an extraordinary nature, yesterday's session of the Recorder's court was the most lengthy held in several weeks, the sitting lasting until well on in the afternoon. Not an unusually large number of cases were tried, but their nature was such that the progress was slow.

Several farm sentences were meted out. Mary Fisher, colored, was found guilty of an assault with a deadly weapon, a knife, upon Martha Wilson, and was sentenced to 60 days on the county farm. Christian Isham, colored, who was found guilty of a nuisance in cursing and swearing on the public streets, was also sent to the farm for 60 days. Blanche Banks, another colored amazon, was sentenced to three months on the farm for assaulting Fannie Green, colored, with a knife.

Paul Taylor, colored, waived examination on a charge of highway robbery and was sent over to the Superior Court. In default of $250 bond he was sent to jail. It is alleged that he snatched the sum of $2 from an old colored hack driver and made away with it. A charge of vagrancy against him was continued pending the outcome of the other case.

Chad. Robinson and Ernest Bown, colored, charged with gambling, were found not guilty. William Brown, colored, was taxed $10 and costs for an assault upon Christian Isham.

Hartsfield Crandall and W. L. Wheeler, both white, were charged with an affray. Both were found not guilty of an affray, but the evidence brought out gave a different aspect to Crandall's part of the affair and he was fined $25 and costs for an assault with a deadly weapon. J. W. Crandall and Ophelia McKenzie, white, were charged with assaults with deadly weapons but the cases were nol prossed.

Wm. A. Bordeaux, white, charged with abandonment and non-support, was tried, but the case was left open until today. When the case was taken up, Wm. J. Bellamy, Esq., who appeared for the State as private prosecutor, stated that one of the State's material witnesses had suffered the loss of a finger in a saw mill the afternoon preceding and could not be present, but that he could be there the next day. He asked that the case be continued. Recorder Furlong decided to hear the evidence of the witnesses present and leave the matter open for the evidence of the othr witnsses and the arguments of counsel today.

Mrs. Bordeaux was the chief witness against her husband. She testified that he had made life so unbearable for her that she left him about two weeks ago, and that since that time he has not provided for the support of her and their three children. She stated that he had only given her $2 since that time. On cross-examination by Brooke G. Empie, Esq., who with Woodus Kellum, Esq., appeared for the defense, brought out the fact that her husband had provided for her before she left him. She also testified that she had left him a number of times before, but had always gone back to him.

After the evidence had been submitted counsel for the defense moved to dismiss the case on the grounds that Mrs. Bordeaux had left her husband, Brooke G. Empie stated that the Supreme Court had held that the non-support charge would not stand without the abandonment charge, and he argued that Bordeaux had not abandoned his wife, but had been abandoned by her.

Wm. J. Bellamy, Esq., argued that she had been forced to leave because of her husband's brutal treatment of her, and this constituted an abandonment by him.

The Recorder decided to leave the matter open for consideration until today. It was said that if he held adversely, to the defense on the motion, further evidence might be introduced.

MR. J. A. FLOYD PASSES AWAY

Well Known Former Wilmington Citizen Passes Away in Atlanta Following an Operation—Remains to Lynchburg,

Many friends learned with sorrow yesterday of the death of Mr. J. A. Floyd, recently a resident of this city, which occurred in Atlanta, Ga., Tuesday afternoon, following a few days' illness. Mr. Floyd was the agent here for the Fruit Growers' Express and had made Wilmington his home for several years. Accompanied by Mrs. Floyd he left several weeks ago for Atlanta, where he intended to remain during the present fruit season. Mr. Floyd was a member of the vestry of St. John's Episcopal church.

The sad intelligence of his death was received here in a telegram to Rev. Wm. E. Cox, rector of St. John's Episcopal church, who at present is in Knoxville, Tenn., to attend the funeral of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Jas. O'Connor, who died here Monday. The telegram, which was from Mrs. Floyd, was delivered to Mr. H. G. Smallbones. It contained merely the brief statement that Mr. Floyd had died Tuesday, following an illness of several days. Mr. Smalbones telegraphed Mrs. Floyd to the effect that Mr. Cox was out of the city and assuring her of the sympathy of her friends here in her great sorrow.

The only particulars of the death of Mr. Floyd were contained in a telegram to Mr. L. H. Simmons, general manager of the Independent Ice Co., and a personal friend of Mr. Floyd here. The message was from Mr. B. J. Christman, southeastern general manager of the Fruit Growers' Express, and was received at 11 o'clock yesterday morning. It stated that Mr. Floyd died of peritonitis after an operation Tuesday night at 6 o'clock. Mr. Scott, of the offices of the F. G. E., in Atlanta, left with the remains of Mr. Floyd at 2:45 o'clock yesterday afternoon for Lynchburg, Va., where the remains will be interred today.

Mr. Floyd is survived by his wife and two sons, Frank and Mack, aged 11 and 15 years, respectively, who were at the family home at Plains, Va., when the death occurred. Mr. Floyd is also survived by his venerable father, 86 years of age; by one brother, Mr. Charles Floyd, of Lynchburg, and one sister, Mrs. Cramer, of Richmond, Va. All of the bereaved ones have the tenderest sympathy of all in their sorrow.

Mr. Floyd was in the Atlanta territory at this season of the year getting an estimate on the Georgia peach crop preparatory to its movement a little later.

A regular meeting of Wilmington Lodge No. 532, B. P. O. E., will be held at 8:30 P. M. tonight. Business of importance wil be transacted and a full attendance is desired.

PI KAPPA PHI CONVENTION

Beginning July 9th and continuing for three days, the Pi Kappa Phi fraternity, one of the largest and best known of the leading collegu fraternities, with a membership covering the entire United States, will hold its 15th annual convention at Wrightsville Beach, with headquarters at the Hanover Inn.

It is expected that the convention will bring from 40 to 50 college men to Wrightsville Beach. Some will come from as far west as California, and in fact, almost every State in the Union will be represented by a delegate. Mr. W. M. Shaw, Jr., of this city, is busy making preparations to entertain the visiting delegates, and he expects to give them a royal good time.

With its annual courtesy, the Tidewater Power Company has arranged for a special dance at Lumina in honor of the visitors. The handsome pavilion will be specially decorated for the occasion appropriate souvenirs will be given.

The Pi Kappa Phi colors are white and old gold and their insignia is of a most attractive and beautiful design. It is a diamond shaped pin with a scroll across the face, with the letters "P. K. P." Above is a star and below the student's lamp.

The delegates will have time for recreation as well as for their business sessions and no effort will be spared on the part of the local members of the fraternity, or the people of Wrightsville Beach, to entertain them in every possible way. It is needless to predict that they will have a most happy visit and go back home singing the praises of Wrightsville Beach.

BEAUTIFUL WEDDING AT PIKEVILLE, N. C.

Goldsboro, N. C., June 26.—Perhaps the most distinctive and well appointed wedding which has occurred in Eastern Carolina in decades was that of Miss Frances Pearl Fort, youngest daughter of Col. W. B. Fort, of Pikeville, N. C., to Mr. Robert A. Fetzer, of Concord, N. C., on Monday, June 24th.

The occasion will brook the interest of Miss Fort's friends throughout the Carolinas, Virginias, Maryland, and other States she has visited, and of scarcely lesser company who have known Mr. Fetzer.

The ceremony was in all its aspects, old-fashioned, though none the less magnificent and impressive on this account. It was celebrated at the residence of Col. Fort, a venerable homestead on the estate which has been in the family possession since the days of the Indians, and the home as well as numberless friends, and guests who have enjoyed there, and still enjoy the hospitality of the ante bellum period. In the commercial age of mutable customs and styles Belleveredere remains unaffective, unchanged, its aged servants, its broad acres, its stately trees, its atmosphere of welcome and lavish plenty bespeak and still retain the tradition and charm of the old regime.

Shortly before eight o'clock Monday evening the wedding ceremony was begun by Mendelsshon's Spring Song, rendered faultlessly on the violin by Miss Lucia Privett, of Goldsboro, accompanied by Miss Lina DeRosset, of Wilmington, during which the wedding party of nine maids of honor and nine groomsmen and formed with connecting links of pink trille studded with La'France roses and smilax, an aisle through which the bride, the dame of honor and the flower girls passed.

The bride was exquisitely gowned in white imported chiffon over Duchess satin and real lace. She carried a white prayer book with pendant lilies of the valley. Her train was carried by her colored mammy in white turban neck cloth and apron.

The dame of honor, Mrs. Richmond Reid, of Concord, N. C., wore a white lace robe. She carried pink L'France roses.

The maids of honor wore pink crepe meteor trimmed with Irish lace.

Little Misses Mattie Parker, Carol Collier, of Goldsboro, flower girls, wore white lingerie dresses over pink and carried tall baskets of pink roses and smilax.

The four ribbon boys in attendance at the doors were: Talbot Parker, Frederick Parker, Agden Parker and Norwood Holmes, of Goldsboro.

The bride was met at the altar of evergreens erected in the main hall, by the groom and the best man, Mr. William Fetzer. Miss Fort was given away by her father. Rev. M. T. Dickingson, of Goldsboro, officiated, the ring service of the Episcopal church being used.

Following the ceremony a brilliant reception was tendered the bridal party and a few friends at the conclusion of which the nuptials motored to Goldsboro, and proceeded thence to Hot Springs.

The reception rooms were banked with evergreens and a profusion of sweet peas and roses. The beauty of the scene was enhanced by the soft light of many candles.

On Wednesday the Mecraph Club of Goldsboro, gave to Miss Fort and her guests a reception; on Sunday afternoon many friends of the bride were in attendance at a barbecue at Belleveredere.

Miss Fort is a young woman of rare beauty and magnetic personality. She has been for several seasons both prominent and popular in Washington and Baltimore society, and in cities of her own State.

Mr. Fetzer is a thorough scholar and an accomplished gentleman. He will be remembered by many as a notable athlete. At present he occupies the position as head of the science department and of the athletics at Woodberry Forest school, Orange, Va.

During the week preceding the wedding the following maids of honor and groomsmen have enjoyed a house party at Bellevedere: Misses Margaret Clary, Baltimore, Md.; Janie Ingram, Frederick, Md.; Sadie Rollins, Asheville, N. C.; Lina DeRosset, Wilmington, N. C.; Lucia Privett, Goldsboro, N. C.; Estelle O'Berry, Goldsboro, N. C.; Rachael Borden, Goldsboro, N. C.; Blanche Holt, Oak Ridge, N. C., and Messrs. William McK. Fetzer, Concord, N. C.; J. N. Cole, Jr., Raleigh, N. C.; Wm. T. Joyner, Chester, S. C.; Allen Jones, Columbia, S. C.; R. H. Crawford, Rock Hill, S. C.; Harrison Yelverton, Goldsboro, N. C.; I. V. Graham, Lexington, Va.; T. J. Fetzer, Shelby, N. C.; William Persons, Pikeville, N. C.; J. D. Pool, Goldsboro, N. C. The chaperones were: Mrs. Richmond Reed, Concord, N. C.; Mrs. S. A. Erwin, Concord, N. C.; Mrs. J. F. Hurley, Concord, N. C., and Mrs. A. M. Mosley, N. C.

MR. LEE M'CLUNG TO SPEAK.

Will Address North Carolina Bankers' Association Tomorrow

A telegram was received here yesterday morning for Mr. W. B. Cooper, who is attending the National Democratic convention in Baltimore, from W. A. Hunt, secretary of the North Carolina Bankers' Association, announcing that Mr. Lee McClung, Assistant Secretary of the United States Treasury, would be present and address the bankers' association at Morehead City Friday and urging his attendance. Mr. McClung is a personal friend of Mr. Cooper and the latter would most likely have attended the convention had he known when Mr. McClung was to speak. The telegram was replied to by the American National Bank, of which Mr. Cooper is president, to the effect that Mr. Cooper was in Baltimore and assuring Mr. Hunt that he would regret exceedingly that he was not able to attend the convention.

MR. J. S. FUNCHESS BACK.

Attended T. P. A. Convention at Peoria, and Political Conventions.

Mr. J. S. Funchess returned yesterday from Peoria, Ill., where he attended the National convention of the Travelers' Protective Association of America, as a delegate from Post G, Wilmington. He declares that the convention was a success from every standpoint and was royally entertained by the city of Peoria. He says that Peoria is a model city in street improvements.

Mr. Funchess also visited the two National conventions—the Republican at Chicago, and the Democratic at Baltimore—on his trip. In each city he visited the headquarters of the principal candidates, and was in Col. Roosevelt's apartments at the Congress Hotel, Chicago, when he and his followers broke loose from the Republican party Saturday night.

Doctor's Boyish Face Reveals Skin Renewer

I heard the other day the story of the physician with so admirable a skin that all his women patients asked the secret. He told one, who generously told others, that, knowing the remarkable absorbent property of ordinary mercolized wax, he concluded this substance would make an excellent complexion renewer and preserver. Knowing the wax could not harm the skin, he began using it after shaving. He soon observed that the old, withered colorless cuticle was being gradually absorbed and replaced by younger, healthier skin. This was the simple secret of the silver-haired doctor with the boyish face.

The secret became public property. Now women everywhere use mercolized wax, applying it nights like cold cream, washing it off mornings—continuing until the complexion is entirely renovated. An ounce of this wax, procurable at any druggist's, will banish the worst complexion.

Another valuable rejuvenator used by this doctor was a wrinkle-remover and preventive in the form of a face bath, made by dissolving an ounce of saxolite in a half pint witch hazel. This also has become famous—Aurelia in Fashion Review.

SECOND DAY OF RETREAT

Interesting Discussion on Religious Book Yesterday Morning

The clergy of the Diocese of East Carolina who are attending the annual Bishop's Retreat at Wrightsville Beach as guests of Bishop Robert Strange enjoyed a very interesting discussion at the daily session yesterday morning on the book, "The Philosophy of the Christian Religion," by Dr. Fairbairn. The discussion was a general one and was participated in by all those in attendance. It followed the excellent written digest of the book which was prepared and read by Rev. Dr. W. H. Milton at Tuesday's session.

In addition to the discussion on the book, there was also a general discussion and exchange of views on typical problems in church and parish life. The discussion was animated, as much interest is always taken in this feature of the work at the retreat.

Rev. Dr. R. B. Drane, of Edenton, arrived yesterday and joined the other clergymen at the Atlantic Cottage, where they are guests of Bishop Strange while the retreat is in session.

This morning the feature of the session will be a written digest by Rev. T. P. Noe, on the book, "Jesus Christ and the Social Problem," by Dr. Peabody. There will also be a discussion of the book, in addition to the general discussions of matters of interest to the welfare of church and pastoral work.

The visiting clergymen are enjoying to the fullest their stay at the beach. The working hours are in the morning and the remainder of the day is devoted to recreation or amusement.

NEGRO SHOT BY MISTAKE.

Thought to Have Been Convict Wanted in Cumberland.

(Fayetteville Observer, 26th.)

We mentioned in the Observer yesterday that H. C. Matthews, a convict guard, shot a negro whom he was trying to arrest at Buie's, Robeson county. The superintendent of the Cumberland county convicts received information that Eugene White, an escaped negro convict, was at Buie's. Accordingly, he sent Matthews to apprehend White and bring him to the camp.

When Matthews reached Buie's he was shown a negro who was said to be Eugene White, and he approached him and told him that he must be handcuffed and carried to Fayetteville. The negro denied that he was White and said that he would not be arrested, and then resisted. Matthews drew his pistol and shot the negro.

The wounded man was brought here to Highsmith Hospital, where it was found that the ball had passed through the liver and stomach, inflicting a very ugly wound. Yesteday afternoon Dr. Seavy Highsmith operated on him, and extricated the ball. His condition is very critical but he is reported better today. He gives his name as Pate Bynum.

Free Lance Publication.

The Carolinian, a free lance monthly publication, has made its initial bow to the Wilmington public, with Mr. Edward Bernard Moss as editor and publisher. In his salutory the editor declares that he makes no apology, promises nothing for the future and declares that the magazine is on trial. The first issue is sprightly looking and aggressive in nature. In one of the articles the editor suggests that the name of Market street be changed to Carolina avenue or something else appropriate.

WRIGHTSVILLE BEACH

Mrs. S. Einstein, of Wilmington, is spending the Summer at the Hanover Inn.

Mrs. Louise Froelich, of Halifax, is spending a while at the Seashore Hotel, a guest of the family of Mr. P. H. Westphal.

The usual mid-week dance was given at Lumina last night. The event was largely attended by the young people of the city as well as by those spending some time at the resort.

The hotel and boarding house proprietors on the beach are expecting the arrival of a large number of people tomorrow from Atlanta and other points in Georgia as well as some from South Carolina and Alabama.

Miss Elvira Wright, a charming and attractive young lady of Columbia, S. C., has arrived to join the colony of Columbia people at the Seashore Hotel. She visited the beach last Summer and has many friends at the resort.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Fetter and Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Hardeman have taken Cottage No. 95-A, Wrightsville Beach Extension, for the Summer. Many friends of Mrs. Hardeman will be glad to know that she continues to improve, following a long illness.

Miss Lane returned yesterday afternoon to Atlanta, Ga., after a brief visit to Wrightsville Beach, where she made arrangements with the management of the Oceanic Hotel for a party of 50 young women who will come from the Georgia metropolis July 4th for a stay of ten days. The party will be chaperoned by Miss Lane.

Weather conditions were unfavorable for fishing yesterday, the sea being quite choppy outside, and no parties went out, though many ardent anglers longed to try their skill. It is thought that the rough seas will have abated by this morning, and in that event it is a practical certainty that all of the sail boats and launches will be out.

Yesterday's arrivals at the Hanover Inn included the following: C. A. Dixon and son, Jimmy Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Burriss, W. D. Harry, Miss Sarah Harry, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Abernathy, J. T. McGee, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Dickerson and child, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Mosteller, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Gray, Miss Bruce Orr, A. R. Shaw and son, A. R. Shaw, Jr., F. J. Little, C. W. Winchester, Charlotte; Mrs. Ferrie A. Pegram and Miss Olive Cathey, Steel Creek; Miss Julia Adams and Jas. T. Alexander, Charlotte.

The arrivals at the Oceanic Hotel yesterday included the following: P. B. Beard, Salisbury; Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Vaughan, Atlanta; T. M. Ramseur and C. B. Phillips, Lincolnton; Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Grandy and three children; H. B. Springer, Miss Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Johnson, Miss Nell Mae Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Barton and three children, O. C. Worsley, Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Summers, M. B. Hood, Chas. Torrence, all of Charlotte; Jas. A. Shaw, Maxton.

Among the arrivals at the Seashore Hotel yesterday were: H. J. Zehm, Charlotte; Mr. and Mrs. Lee Reinheimer, Richmond, Va.; Mrs. Martin L. Cannon, child and nurse and Miss Marguerite Brown, Concord; R. M. Halbrook, W. L. Solomon, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Wilson, J. H. Wilson, H. Johnston, H. E. Garrison, C. P. McClay, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Wightman, Mr. and Mrs. D. Semple, Mr. and Mrs. H. Hunter, A. S. Goss, J. McDowell, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Woodside and young sons, Fred B. McCall, P. H. McCall, R. U. McCall, John Weeks, L. Nichols, C. Austin, J. E. Collins, Lawrence Harry, Sam Emory, W. F. Dowd, W. F. Dowd, Jr., Miss Ruth Dowd, Charlotte.

The annual excursion conducted by the Pritchard Memorial Baptist Sunday School of Charlotte, from that city to Wilmington and Wrightsville Beach, arrived yesterday afternoon, bringing about 250 pleasure-seekers. The excursion this year was operated by the Pritchard Memorial Sunday School and the Sunday School of the Tenth Avenue Presbyterian church, and the visitors include members of each and their friends. There are also a number of visitors from Gastonia, who took advantage of the opportunity to visit this city and its resorts. Most of the excursionists are at Wrightsville Beach, though some of them are stopping with friends in the city. The excursion will return to Charlotte tomorrow morning, and in the meantime the visitors will have ample opportunity to enjoy the pleasures and recreations that the city and its resorts afford.

Yesterday's Atlanta Georgian: "Jesse N. Couch, manager of the Oceanic Hotel at Wrightsville Beach, arrived in Atlanta Tuesday morning and will remain a guest of the Majestic until Thursday night, when he leaves for Wrightsville over the Seaboard Air Line with a large party who will spend the Summer at the Oceanic Hotel. Mr. Couch is bubbling over with enthusiasm about his hotel and Wrightsville Beach. With Captain Oscar Salter in charge of the private pier, the 60-foot launch and boats, absolute safety is assured, for no man knows the South Atlantic coasts better than Captain Salter. He also knows where the fishing is best. Special rates will be given by the Oceanic from August 15th to October 1st. Mr. Couch will be at the Majestic until Thursday, where he will make reservations or give any information desired."

Boy's Trousers Found

Mr. C. W. Suggs, who recently suffered the loss of his little son by the distressing accident of drowning in the old rock quarry pond near Bellevue cemetery, while in that vicinity late yesterday afternoon found a pair of boy's trousers on the path leading to the pond. He at once surmised that some lad had been drowned and divesting himself of his clothing, made a search of the pond for some time, but could find no trace of anyone. The trousers were brought to the police station. No report has been made of any boy missing.

Miss Lizzie Melvin the Bride of Mr. Robert I. Belch.

A simple but pretty home wedding was solemnized yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Robbins, No. 203 Castle street, when Miss Lizzie D. Melvin, of this city, became the bride of Mr. Robert I. Belch, of Hamlet, Rev. Dr. J. H. Foster, pastor of the First Baptist church, officiating.

The ceremony was an informal one and was witnessed only by a few close friends of the bride and groom. Mr. and Mrs. Belch left on the 3:25 train for the western part of the State, where they will spend their honeymoon. They will make their home at Ellenboro.

Mrs. Belch is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Melvin, of White Oak, but has been making her home in this city for the past several years. Mr. Belch is a son of Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Belch, of Lumberton. Both have many friends in this section, whose best wishes will go with them to their new home.

COTTON PRICES SHOW LOSS

The Market Broke Sharply at Opening But Recovered Part of Loss And Closed Steady at a Small Decline

New York, June 26.—The cotton market had sharp breaks at the opening today, but recovered partially and closed steady at a net decline of from 2 to 8 points.

Influenced by weak cables and good weather in the South, the market opened steady at a decline of 5 to 11 points, and active months sold about 7 to 11 points net lower during the first few minutes, with July leading the decline on a renewal of scattering liquidation for the notices expected next Friday. Reports that Southern correspondents of a prominent local spot house estimated the condition of the crop at 83.9 per cent undoubtedly accounted for much of the selling, and for a while after the opening there was more or less general liquidation as well as considerable pressure from local bears. It appeared, however, that there was still a good demand in evidence around 11.40 for October and, while the buying was not particularly aggressive, it was sufficient to check the decline. Later another private report issued by a Wall Street house making the condition 80.1 and claiming a reduction of 6 1-2 per cent in acreage caused some covering by early sellers and the market reached the best point of the day in the late trading, when active months sold 2 or 3 points of last night, closing figures. There were rumors just before the close that preliminary figures of the National Ginners' Association indicated an average condition of about 84 per cent and last prices were 2 or 3 points off from the best on new crop positions under renewed liquidation. Trading was fairly active at the start, but became quiet as soon as the early selling orders had been absorbed, and after the rally of 5 or 6 points from the lowest showed comparatively little feature.

Receipts 4,753 bales, against 3,579 last week, and 2,544 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 1,782 bales, against 1,718 last year, at Galveston 957, against 61 last year and at Houston 531, against 128 last year.

Move on Now!

says a policeman to a street crowd, and whacks heads if it don't. "Move on now," says the big, harsh mineral pills to bowel congestion and suffering follows. Dr. King's New Life Pills don't bulldoze the bowels. They gently persuade them to right action, and health follows. 25c at R. R. Bellamy.

STOCKS DULL BUT STRONGER

Price Advance in Finished Steel and Iron Products—Another Export of Gold to Paris—Specialties Active.

New York, June 26.—Developments of primary importance in today's dull but strong stock market included the long expected price advances in certain finished articles of steel and iron by several of the leading independent manufacturers and another $2,000,000 gold export to Paris. Interest in the action of the steel concerns was based largely on the fact that the higher prices seemed to be justified by trade conditions. Whether the United States Steel Corporation intends to follow the lead of its aggressive competitors was not disclosed.

Gains of a point were registered by many active issues in the early dealings, while some specialties moved in a sensational manner with a new high record for American Tobacco. Later the electrical issues and certain semi-active retailers, such as Louisville & Nashville, and Norfolk & Western, were taken up with further improvement in other groups under the lead of steel, which strengthened the entire list and produced a moderately buoyant close. Norfolk & Western convertible 4s were the feature of the bond department with a two point gain. Total sales, par value, aggregated $2,073,000. United States government bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales 338,700 shares.

HOME OF THE AGED.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., June 25.—More people have died in LaGrange, the second town in size in Lenoir county, from old age, than form any other cause in the past six months, is the proud boast of its citizens. The place claims the honor of embracing more centenarians and octogenarians in its population than any other community of 1,250 or 1,500 souls in North Carolina. Sallie Williams, a negress, died yesterday at the age of 106 years, following closely upon the death of Anica Hardy, of near there, another venerable colored woman, who expired at the unusual age of 126. Authoritive records gave proof of the ages of both these "aunties", and the remarkable age of the latter perhaps made her the oldest person in North Carolina at the time of her death, with the Williams woman a close second. These ancient landmarks were LaGrange's pride and shining examples of the courtly customs of beto' de war times, veritable educational institutions in the little town and story-tellers for its children. Now, with the passing of the old black women, LaGrange points with pride to two substantial citizens as the oldest inhabitants, Levi Carter, 98, and Mr. Goodson, 96. Both are in the best of health and the latter boasts that he has never taken a dose of medicine. Mr. Goodson would pass for a man of about 70. Young people of 80 or 85 are only ordinary folks in LaGrange, and sturdy farmers of 70 are scattered throughout the length and breadth of Moseley Hall township.

Sporting men of Kinston and Snow Hill are interested in efforts now being made to arrange a bout between Frank Faircloth, of the latter town, and Abe Herzog, of New York, middleweight amateurs of known ability. If the promoters are successful, the match will come off in Snow Hill, probably on July 4th. Herzog went into training today in the armory here, in anticipation of the fight, which will be from six to ten rounds. Faircloth is a well known business man of Snow Hill. He has decided advantages over the New Yorker in weight and other essentials, although Herzog is admitted to have more science. Herzog is a first cousin to Third Baseman Herzog, of the New York Giants, and was at one time well known as a lightweight pugilist of promise. Harry Stein, a local man, has announced a desire to try out the New Yorker in case he cannot meet Faircloth.

It is possible that the Philadelphia syndicate who have asked for a franchise for a gas plant in Kinston will meet with a little opposition from agitation which has been aroused in favor of a public-owned plant. The general tenor of public sentiment is not yet known, but that some men of business influence in the city are in favor of refusing a franchise to an outside corporation is certain, as evidenced by several letters in the local papers today and yesterday. An equally influential faction favors granting the franchise, however, and unless sentiment against it should grow materially stronger in the next week or two the chances are that the permit will be given the Philadelphia people. That the plant should be operated by the city is the contention of the disgruntled element, and aside from this no objection is advanced. Between $30,000 and $60,000 is the proposed cost of erection of the plant which the Quaker City people seek to install here.

Something Interesting.

A Remanufactured typewriter is not a second-hand typewriter. To remanufacture a typewriter means that it is made new throughout. All worn parts are replaced by new parts, and the machine is made new. A second-hand typewriter is one that has been used and has not had the old worn parts replaced by new ones. Remanufactured typewriters are practically new machines and our faith in them enables us to give you the same guarantee the manufacturer gives. This should convince you that they are as good as those you pay from $100 to $125 for, and we save you from 25 per cent to 50 per cent.

Gore, of Oklahoma, who was next introduced. He was unable to proceed with his speech for some time because of the uproar.

"Let us have peace," said Mr. Gore in the course of his talk. "Let us have peace at any price, at any sacrifice save that of honor. Let us here put every Democrat under bonds to keep the peace."

A burst of applause greeted this sentiment.

"Nothing can save the Republican party from self-slaughter except Democratic suicide," declared Gore. "We cannot live half progressive and half reactionary. Theodore Roosevelt endeavored to breathe the breath of life of modern progress into the petrified remains of the Republican party. He failed. The mummy would not move."

Senator Gore closed with a plea for harmony which called out much enthusiasm.

"Fellow Democrats," he added, "let the candidate of this convention be your candidate."

John Temple Graves, of Georgia and New York, came next on the long list of orators. Former Governor Campbell, of Ohio, denounced the Republican party in no uncertain terms. He was the last speaker.

An effort was made from the floor to upset the arrangements for tomorrow's session and adjourn the convention until 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The attempt failed and at 2:17 the convention adjourned until 8 o'clock tonight.

Resolutions Committee Meets.

Baltimore, June 26.—Because he is not in sympathy with the forces "seemingly in control of the Baltimore convention," William Jennings Bryan today declined to accept the chairmanship of the resolutions committee unanimously tendered him. Senator John W. Kern, of Indiana, was elected after Mr. Bryan twice refused the honor.

When the committee met at 10:15 o'clock Mr. Bryan was not present. His absence was disconcerting.

No one appeared to know what the Nebraskan's attitude was to be, but it was rumored that he had said to several friends that he would not accept the responsibility of directing the platform makers. Nevertheless, it was decided unanimously that the place should be proferred him.

After brief discussion it was suggested that a committee of Mr. Bryan's friends should be sent to his rooms to urge him to assume what the committee declared to be a duty to his party. Senators Rayner, of Maryland; O'Gorman, of New York, and Culberson, of Texas, were sent post haste to Mr. Bryan's rooms. The committee arrived too late; Mr. Bryan had started to the convention hall.

The committee of Senators returned to the convention hall and entered the committee room just in time to hear Mr. Bryan conclude a speech refusing to serve as chairman. The Nebraskan said he was not in sympathy with the forces who appeared to be directing the trend of political events in the party and that he was not sure that he could support the platform to be presented by the committee. He declared that unless the platform embraced his ideas of true progress he would submit a minority report to the convention. He emphatically declined the honor his colleagues unanimously wanted to bestow upon him.

Not content to so easily abandon their harmony programme, the committee turned the matter over to Senators Rayner, O'Gorman and Culberson and they held an earnest discussion with Mr. Bryan in one corner of the room. Their efforts were fruitless; Mr. Bryan had announced his position and it was unalterable.

Senator Kern was turned to at once as representing the progressive Democracy and there was no nomination in opposition to him. His election was unanimous and the committee began hearings preliminary to closing the doors for the actual work of making the party platform.

As soon as the committee organized Mr. Bryan moved that the presentation of the platform be deferred until after the convention had nominated a candidate for President. Senator Rayner seconded the proposition. He urged a progressive platform and particularly in reference to the tariff and direct election of Senators on which planks there was found to be a division of sentiment. The proposal was approved by the committee by the vote of 41 to 9.

"We do not want and must not have a perpetual debate between the candidate and the platform," said Mr. Bryan in advocacy of his motion postponing action on the platform until after the nomination of the Presidential candidate, "and", he continued, "the only way to prevent such a result is to name your man first. Indeed", he went on, "in these days the man is the platform."

The candidate, he argued, should have an opportunity to talk about the platform in advance of its making rather than to feel impelled to talk against it afterward.

Senator Clarke, of Arkansas, opposed the change as a reversal of all precedents, but was antagonized by Senator Rayner, of Maryland, who, taking sides emphatically with Mr. Bryan, said the time had come for overthrowing undesirable precedents.

In refusing to accept the chairmanship, Mr. Bryan said:

"I appreciate the compliment, but I am not willing to act as chairman. I am a believer in harmony, but I think that the committee in its offices ought to be in harmony with the convention and I am not in harmony with the organization of the convention nor of the National Committee which controls the organization of the convention.

"We used to have two kinds of Democrats, progressives and conservatives; we have now only one kind, progressive, but we find there is a wide difference in the definition of the word 'progressive', and I do not define progressive as if defined by a majority of this convention and I desire to be more free to represent the minority sentiment. I do not say that there will be a minority report, but it would not look well for the chairman of the committee to take in a minority report. It may be necessary for me to take in a minority report. I do not know that I will, but I do not want to place myself in that awkward position and for that reason, I decline."

By a vote of 22 to 16 the rules committee also agreed to the plan to defer the presentation of the platform until after the party's candidate for President had been nominated. In the absence of any true indication as to whether the conservative or the "progressive" wings of the party would dominate the convention, it was considered good policy to hold back the platform in order to have it drawn so as to be acceptable to the convention's choice.

Another important proposition passed upon by the rules committee was the recognition of the authority of a State convention to instruct delegates to National conventions in the enforcement of the unit rule, in the absence of a specific statute.

The proposition of recognizing the authority of a State convention arose because of the situation in the Ohio delegation.

The State convention had instructed the Ohio delegation by a vote of 600 to 325 to vote as a unit for Governor Harmon. Nineteen members of the Ohio delegation, however, claimed the right to violate these instructions because they had been elected as avowed Wilson men in their respective districts, and wished to vote for him.

This contention was opposed by the other 29 Harmon delegates who held that because of the preferential primary vote Governor Harmon had a majority of 10,000 over Governor Wilson, the instructions of the State convention to vote as a unit for Governor Harmon for President should be enforced.

J. W. Peck, the Ohio member of the committee, made a fight for the Harmon contention and Mayor Newton Baker, of Cleveland, for the Wilson delegates. After a prolonged debate the following resolution offered by Mr. Peck, was adopted by a vote of 22 to 15.

"It shall be the rule of this convention that all States which have been instructed by their respective State Democratic convention or by a State Democratic Presidential preferential primary, shall follow those instructions, so long as a majority of the delegates from such State are of the opinion that such instruction is applicable."

The following were appointed a subcommittee of the resolutions committee to draft the platform:

John W. Kern, ex-officio chairman; C. C. Culberson, W. J. Bryan, James A. O'Gorman, Isador Rayner, A. M. Dockery, D. J. Walsh, Atlee Pomerene, Thomas S. Martin, S. W. Belford, R. T. Broussard and George W. Githian.

After recess the rules committee completed its work by agreeing that a committee of three, composed of the chairman, Representative Covington, of Maryland; Secretary E. P. Hill, of Oklahoma, and Representative Henry, of Texas, should make the report to the convention. Mr. Henry will present the minority report.

The Montana committeeman, M. D. Baldwin, offered a suggestion that hereafter a majority of the National convention instead of two-thirds, should be required to nominate the President. Chairman Covington ruled that it was out of order and should properly be acted upon by the resolutions committee.

A similar ruling was made on a resolution offered by Secretary Hill providing that at all future Democratic National conventions the temporary officers of the convention should be selected by the members of the National Committee chosen by the respective States, by conventions or otherwise, last preceding the meeting of the National convention.

The committee then adjourned.

Raleigh Man for Secretary.

Baltimore, June 26.—Senator-elect Ollie James, of Kentucky, at a harmony meeting of the committee on permanent organization, was named as permanent chairman of the National convention, but Urey Woodson, secretary of the National committee and from time immemorial secretary of succeeding Democratic conventions, was defeated for that office by E. E. Britton, a newspaper man, of Raleigh, N. C.

The choice of Mr. James was unanimous, but the roll was called on the secretaryship, Mr. Britton winning 24 to 18. Mr. Woodson's high qualifications for the office were admitted, but the Raleigh man's friends were determined to honor him. In the informal discussion which preceded the vote it was declared that the choice, whichever way it fell, would be without political significance. Those of the committee who remained to vote accepted this view of the situation.

The committee was in session for an hour, during which sentiment crystallized around Mr. James and a report was adopted unanimously naming him to the committee. Others whose names were discussed were Senator Kern, Theodore A. Bell, of California; Martin J. Wade, of Iowa; Governor John Burke, of North Dakota, and Senator Culberson. There was no particular objection to any of these, but James seemed predestined for the honor. The names of the favorite sons were withdrawn in speeches, the keynote of which was harmony, and Mr. James was named. Mr. Bell appeared personally before the committee and declared that he desired no office, but would go on the floor as a "common soldier" to fight for harmony and for victory in November.

HEARST AND MURPHY MAKE UP.

Reported Tammany Chief Will Support Editor for Governor.

Baltimore, June 26.—That William Randolph Hearst and Charles F. Murphy have at last buried the hatchet was the reliable information which leaked out last night following the delivery of the Hearst-Clark support in the convention to Parker for temporary chairman.

The ending of this feud, however, did not come, so the story goes, without a price, and that price was said to be the support by Murphy of Hearst's candidacy for the Governorship of New York.

Since he was defeated four years ago for the Governorship, Hearst has been little more than a receptive candidate. He has been regarded as a likely appirant in every contest since then, and the story that he and Murphy have at last patched up their differences was not discredited.

There was more than mild surprise when on Monday Hearst announced informally that he would support Parker for temporary chairman. Parker was Murphy's candidate. Then, when Hearst made good his agreement by actually delivering his votes, the surprise became a shock.

made to start a parade through the aisles. It did not materialize.

From the galleries a shower of Wilson lithographs fell upon the delegates. Galleries and floor joined in the cheering, delegates and spectators climbing upon chairs. In the center of the hall, however, the New York delegates sat calm and unmoved.

An enormous orange and black banner over 30 feet long inscribed "Staunton, Virginia, Woodrow Wilson's birthplace," was carried through the galleries.

A black and white banner inscribed "Give us Wilson and we'll give you Pennsylvania," appeared over the Pennsylvania delegation and it started another cheer.

"Let the band play", shouted an excited Jersey delegate, dashing to the foot of the platform. The band did play and the cheering increased for a time. Finally the band swung into the "Star Spangled Banner" and out of the roar emerged a murmur as many of the delegates stopped cheering to sing. But when the song was over the shouting was resumed and the band played "Maryland, My Maryland," bringing the Baltimoreans in the galleries to their feet with shrill cheers.

The Underwood people tried to appropriate part of the demonstration. They distributed lithographs of Underwood and raised a huge banner with the inscription: "What is the issue? The Tariff. What is the answer? Underwood."

"Dixie" from the band added volume to the uproar. A Jersey delegate worked feverishly, but in vain, to tear from its iron clamps the Jersey standard.

The volume of sound grew steadily. From the galleries the bearers of the big "Staunton" banner came down to the floor. They hurried to the press stand and endeavored to scale the platform. One of the bearers gained the press stand, tramping over telegraph keys and heads of writers, but was seized by a newspaper man and thrown back into the crowd.

A struggle followed and for a time a serious disturbance was threatened.

The delegates again attacked the stand and were again repulsed. The uproar on the floor and in the galleries grew to pandemonium. A crowd jammed the space before the stand as the first banner bearer thrown from the press stand, L. R. Russell, tried to return to the attack. The police and the sergeants-at-arms were powerless against the crowd.

A squad in the galleries began the monotonous chant of "We want Wilson," but it was lost in the general uproar. In vain Chairman Parker pounded his desk in an effort to quiet the crowd.

The demonstration had been under way 30 minutes before even a semblance of order was restored. It required much pounding of gavels after this before the proceedings could be resumed.

Officially the demonstration was recorded as having lasted 33 minutes.

Chairman Parker warned the delegates during future demonstrations against climbing into the press sections. He also warned the spectators against disorders.

Mayor Newton D. Baker, of Cleveland, opposing the unit rule, declared he owed nothing to the State convention; that he was elected as a district delegate in the primary and accredited as a delegate to the National convention. He saw no reason why he should be bound by a resolution in the State convention. He asserted that the unit rule had outlived its usefulness and no longer was needed.

Judge Ed H. Moore, of Ohio, replied to Baker. He maintained that under the Ohio primary scheme it was impossible for the voters to instruct the delegates and that the State convention was the only authority having power to instruct. Senator John Sharp Williams, of Mississippi, then took the platform to speak for the minority report.

Governor Brewer wanted to know whether Senator Williams, who had declared that a delegate should accede to the instructions given him in a primary, did not believe that the vote of the entire State should not bind the entire delegation. Mr. Williams replied that the State at large should control only the delegate at large.

The Senator was insistent that a delegate at large from a primary State should be bound by the majority in the State and that a district delegate should be bound by the district majority vote. A State convention could not claim control over district delegates elected by the people.

"If you adopt the majority report tonight," concluded Senator Williams, "you will do the most dangerous and the most damnable thing that it is in your power to do on this day of Our Lord. And, when you get through doing it you might as well quit your talk about popular government and referring matters back to the people."

As the big clocks at either end of the hall began to point toward 11, the delegates grew restless and cries of "vote, vote", came from all parts of the floor.

The debate continued until 10:56 P. M., when the roll was ordered called. The whole debate had turned upon the situation in Ohio, where nine Congressional districts instructed their 18 delegates for Wilson and the Democratic State convention, controlled by the Harmon forces, adopted a resolution binding the State delegation to vote as a unit according to the dictates of the majority of the delegates. This majority was for Harmon.

The majority report from the committee on rules was to recognize the right of State conventions so to apply the unit rule. The minority report, urged by the Wilson people, proposed to abrogate the rule.

CUBAN CONDITION BETTER

War Department Abandons Arrangements for Sending Force There

Washington, June 26.—The improvement of conditions in Cuba led the War Department today to abandon the arrangements made for the dispatch of the "expeditionary force" of about 15,000 men, and orders were issued to put out of commission the four big army transports at Newport News. The soldiers comprising the force who have been "resting on their arms" for the past month will return to the dull routine of garrison life.

"and we gave you from 80 to 85 per cent of the labor vote."

James A. Emery, representing the manufacturers, opposed the concessions asked by Gompers. He said his organization was non-partisan. In reply to a question by Mr. Bryan he admitted that late Mr. VanCleve, of St. Louis, a member of the organization, had been active in opposing the Democratic candidates in 1908, but said he had exercised only the privileges of an individual.

"As a matter of fact, is not your organization political in character?" Mr. Bryan asked.

"It is not," said Mr. Emery; "it undertakes only to defend itself against the inroads of your party."

Speaking for the American Stock Growers' Association, Representative Rucker, of Colorado, Democrat, attacked the reciprocity law, saying that the stock men and farmers were united in opposition to it. He also contended for an adequate duty on sugar and declared that never had there been such a misnomer as the farmers' free list bill of the last session of Congres.

Edward J. Cahill, of Chicago, advocated a deep waterway from Chicago to the Gulf of Mexico.

State Senator William Green, of Ohio, asked for a pronouncement in favor of the better protection of mine worker.

Mr. Beckham, of Kentucky, presented a plank to restrict the Presidency to one term.

Congressman Gregg, of Texas, ranking Democratic member of the House Committee on Naval Affairs, argued against the building of any more battleships this year, and asked that the Democratic caucus of the House be sustained on that point.

Bishop Alexander Walters and other negroes asked the committee to reaffirm the declaration of 1872 in favor of justice to all "of whoever nativity, race or color."

PRENUPTIAL DANCE

Comus Cotillon Club Gives Social In Honor of Bridal Pair

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Goldsboro, N. C., June 26.—The Comus Cotillon Club gave a very delightful dance last night in honor of Miss Jennie Ormond and Mr. E. Griff Porter, whose wedding took place this evening. The universal interest entertained for the two guests of honor lent an additional charm to their event which in a measure was a testimonial of the hardy esteem in which the popular young couple is held by the social set of the city. The attendance was unusually large, there being visitors from out of town present. Mr. G. K. Freeman with Miss Mary Dortch, assisted by Mr. Gaston L. Dortch with Miss Lucy Dortch, of Raleigh, led the figures of the german. During the hours of dancing delicious fruit punch was served.

Blackburn's orchestra furnished the music, and the splendid effect in which this local organization rendered the selections, excited generous praises on all sides. A large number of couples participated.
